

Meaning of Lent

LENT is a time of six weeks which for ages has been set apart among Christians for period of more than usual seriousness. As observed in the Lutheran church, it is a time marked out from the rest of the year as more especially devoted to the contemplation of those vital truths on which our Christian religion is founded.

Lenten time is Passion time. Passion means suffering, more particularly the suffering of Christ. Accordingly, Passion time, or Passiontide, is the season when we are more especially called upon to commemorate, call to mind, ponder, and think over the suffering of our Savior, Christ Jesus, those scenes announced in the Gospel when He was betrayed into the hands of wicked men, and by them was falsely accused, reviled, mocked, scourged, crowned with thorns, and at last crucified.

The Christian has the precious story of Lent throughout the entire church year. Yet he intensifies his attention to this message during Lenten time. He removes from his life the distractions that may hinder the full realization of all that Lent signifies.

Annually Lent comes with this demand for special time, for full attention to the Passion story. We need those moments, hours, days. We need to be snatched from the many cares of life and listen to God's wonderful story.

Jesus would never have come into the world, if the world had no need of Him. The world needed Him, because mankind lived and lives today in disobedience to God. Disobedience to God can do only one thing—there is hell to pay for it.

When Jesus came into the world, He came with the single idea of being man's substitute. Taking the place of all men, Jesus did this: He fulfilled the Law of God for man; He took man's guilt upon Himself; He suffered and died in punishment for man.

By His vicarious life and death Jesus accomplished this: He satisfied God; He restored man to the favor of God; He gained for man the forgiveness of God.

The Lutheran churches of Arlington Heights, Palatine, Mt. Prospect and Itasca are using a page advertisement in this issue to announce their special services during Lent.

Our New Neighbors

"Arlington Heights stores are friendly," says Mrs. F. K. Hauff, 922 N. Princeton. "We love the town." And Mrs. Hauff spoke as though she meant every word of it. The Hauffs think they looked over almost every village in the metropolitan area until a friendly real estate man found their present home. They have two children, one of whom is in fifth grade. Mr. Hauff is employed with the Chicago and Northwestern RR.

Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Stricklin, 950 N. Princeton, were looking for a home in one of the northwest suburbs. "That is why we are residents of Arlington," Mrs. Stricklin told the reporter. "When I say we like the town, we mean our neighbors and all of the residents with whom we have come into contact."

Mr. and Mrs. Stricklin have two children both of whom are below school age. Mr. Stricklin is an engineer for the Greyhound Company.

Friends in Palatine directed Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Ramsey, Jr., to Arlington where they are residing at 833 N. Princeton. They like the good transportation afforded by the Northwestern and the friendliness of the town. The Ramseys have no children of school age.

"The open air at Arlington Heights makes it a good town in which to raise boys and we have two of them," Mrs. John L. Baker, 918 N. Princeton, told the reporter. The two boys, both under school age, keep Mrs. Baker rather busy, but she has never regretted finding a home in Arlington. Mr. Baker is in the insurance business.

It may have been like finding a needle in a haystack for Mr. and Mrs. John W. Callender, 296 Windsor Drive to find a home in Arlington, but according to Mrs. Callender, it was a lucky needle. "We have been so busy enjoying our neighbors and the town that we have not had time to fill out any questionnaire as to what we like about Arlington," was the way that Mrs. Callender put it.

Legion sponsors boxing lessons twice weekly

There are a lot of boys in the Arlington area who are learning the art of self defense and getting good physical training through the sponsorship of Merle Guild American Legion Post of boxing classes twice a week at Presbyterian gymnasium. Henry Nichols, chairman of the boxing committee, reports a lot of interest on the part of the boys who are receiving the instruction. Mr. Nichols is being assisted by Don Besander and Vic Perrino of Mt. Prospect, O. H. Vincent of Arlington, who was a champ at Duke University, Michigan, and Jed Nichols, who has also won a lot of glory in the prize ring.

Boys are being accepted for training from nine years up. They are given personal instruction by one of the teachers and are in no danger of receiving injuries. As they progress they will be pitted against other boys of similar age and weight.

"The boys have come a long way since they started a month ago," says Mr. Nichols, who is planning a boxing tournament to select boys who will later represent Arlington Heights in district tournaments of the American Legion. Lake County has several teams and if interest continues competition may become as exciting as the basketball games between the high schools of these same towns.

Old Folks Home resident struck by car

Henry Janz, 74, who resides at the Old Folks Home, Arlington Heights, was hit at 6:30 Wednesday evening by a car being driven by Otto Nichols, 728 N. Evergreen St. Janz, who is a great lover of sports, was on his way to the bowling alley. He had crossed the highway and was walking east. The car coming from the west did not see him and the right front fender struck the elderly man. He was taken to Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines, where examination showed that he had evidently escaped serious injury. Rev. Kempf brought him back to the Home that evening.

Photos of children to be featured

The publication of pictures in Paddock Publications of children of readers was discontinued because of the war. Arrangements have again been made by Rutledge Studio of Oak Park to supply us with the photos. Representatives of the studio will call at the homes of readers to take the pictures.

Warson heads 1947 July 4th celebration

Arlington Heights July 4 celebration is on the way. The dates will be July 3, 4, 5 and 6, opening Thursday evening and closing Sunday night when a car will be awarded. Max Warson will be the man at the helm. President Cline of the Community Council has been seeking a general chairman for some time. "There was no better man than Warson," says Cline, "but it took a lot of salesmanship to get Max to say yes." With the acceptance of the job, Mr. Warson asked that he be given a working executive committee, the members of which will be willing to assume leadership responsibility. He has such a committee and big plans are in the making. A dozen subcommittees have also been appointed, the members of which will soon be notified.

Mr. Warson has been identified with previous celebrations and knows his way around. Announcement of his appointment was made Monday evening at a meeting of the Community Council. He immediately asked a few questions regarding this year's policy. He got direct answers and Max and his committee are at work.

Assurances have been received that one of the better class of cars will be available for the grand prize, tickets for which will be fifty cents.

Arlington churches to sponsor day of prayer

The annual World Day of Prayer sponsored locally by three Arlington Heights churches will be held next week, Friday afternoon, with a special service at the Methodist church. St. John's Evangelical and Presbyterian churches are cooperating with the Methodists in the special service.

Guest speaker for the program is Rev. Samuel Takagishi, a graduate of the "School of the Pacific" at Stockton, Calif., and of the "Illus School of Theology" at Denver, Colo. He is now pastor of Nisei Methodist church of Chicago.

The girls triple trio of the local high school, under the direction of Mr. Schmoeyer, will render several selections. The day of prayer is being held throughout the world next week, Friday, February 21, as dawn breaks, first in the Fiji Islands, and thence around the globe.

New polio case in Palatine

The second case of polio reported in the Chicago suburbs since January 1, occurred in Palatine this week. The victim is Roberta Clute, 12, 45 West Chicago ave. The girl is now in the Sherman hospital, Elgin, both limbs are affected, but there is an excellent possibility of a recovery.

"This is the first time in 13 years that a case of polio has been reported during the month of February," Dr. Piszczek informed Paddock Publications Wednesday. "It may be a bad omen which if true means that many more cases may be expected."

Barrington voters approve million dollar bond issue

Barrington voters gave almost a unanimous approval last Saturday to the purchase of a 73 acre site for new high school building and a bond issue for $940,000. The vote on the bond issue was 1160 to 138; authorization for erection of the new building was 1207 to 89.

Two sites were offered to the voters. The 73 acre Hart tract, west of town, was offered at $37,500; the other site comprised 24 acres and adjoined the northside park and swimming pool. Condemnation would have been necessary which raised its estimated cost to $75,000. The Hart tract was approved by a vote of 1013 to 355.

Opens camera shop and photo studio

Business license was issued today for a new enterprise in Arlington Heights to be called the Community Camera operating a photographic supply store and studio at 114 N. Evergreen. The store will stock a complete line of films, papers, chemicals and miscellaneous camera equipment. The studio will accept appointments for portraits or group pictures beginning February 17th. Ralph A. Windheim is the proprietor.

Truck takes to basement as driver falls asleep

Wilford Rule, 24, a driver for the Phillips Produce Co., Dodgeville, Wis., fell asleep at the wheel of a truck loaded with eggs at 5:30 Tuesday morning as he was passing through Arlington Heights. In some miraculous way the unguided truck crossed the 40 ft. pavement, just missed a water hydrant, an electric light post and gasoline pumps at the Stonegate Service Station. The truck landed upside down in the basement constructed for a garage. The driver escaped injury, but one third of 90,000 eggs were broken. Three crates of live chickens were also in the melee. A Jeep and a Dodge parked at the gas station were damaged.

The Master Electric building adjoining the basement would have been hit if the truck had hurdled the 15 ft. hole.

The driver told reporters that the steering mechanism was at fault, but the police report places the blame upon the driver, who evidently dozed. Two tow cars and a derrick removed the chassis Tuesday. The box was still in the basement Wednesday night.

School-theater polio fund breaks all records

Arlington Heights citizens raised $1,187.74 in the polio fund drive which closed this week. Ninety per cent of that amount came from the schools and collections at the Arlington Theater. Organizations contributed $50, coin containers $32.18 and private individuals $32.50. Patrons of the theater contributed $324.83 and the schools $948.23, divided as follows:

High school	$194.45
Catholic school	136.88
South school	161.58
North school	321.65
Lutheran school	220.69

The drive was sponsored by the Woman's Club with Mrs. L. T. McAuliffe as chairman. Mrs. N. Leckband and Mrs. William Brown as co-chairmen. They have asked this paper to express their thanks to everyone who gave their time and money to make the drive a success, especially Mr. and Mrs. Knapp of the Arlington Theater, who gave fine cooperation; Mrs. Blohm who gave so generously of her time, Miss Hamlin and high school girls who assisted at the theater and all of the schools and teachers.

Boy's $2,000 story increases to $25,000 within a day

Earl E. Browne who recently purchased the Levi Wayman house on North Dunton, Arlington Heights, was surprised to be told Monday that he had found $25,000 when remodeling the house he had purchased. It was all news to the new owner, but he was interested in tracing the story. The story was evidently first told by a 13 year old boy. Within a few hours it had increased to $4,000. Tuesday morning the mail carrier congratulated Browne on the $25,000 find.

"As the story grew in size, it was more quickly accepted by the general public as the truth, which, according to a neighbor, proves that Americans are naturally suckers."

Valentine's Day dance Saturday at Heights

Saturday night is the night of the Valentine's Day dance at the Heights fieldhouse sponsored by the Arlington Athletic association, with Wally Hahnel slated to provide the music. Dancing will start this Saturday night at 9 p. m. with admission set at 75 cents. Refreshments will be offered.

Police find 33 business men parking illegally

An open letter to "Good Neighbor" motorists

Due to the unusual condition of streets caused by the heavy snowfall and severe winter parking in the business district has become such a problem to the police department that it appears it might be necessary to get "tough" to eliminate flagrant parking violations. Motorists are urged to park properly in the downtown area and not remain parked any longer than necessary. Unless there is a marked improvement immediately, an officer will be posted in the shopping area to issue arrest tickets to all violators.

Cooperation is also requested from the business men and women who park their cars all day during business hours. A survey in the south-side business section alone on Friday, February 7, disclosed 33 cars parked all day (belonging to the owners or clerks of local business houses). Cooperation by these business folks is urgently requested.

We urge Arlington Heights motorists to check themselves for one week, park right, drive right and limit parking in the shopping area to an absolute minimum. The police department desires to be most courteous and in so doing often overlook some minor violations, but it is quite apparent that several local motorists might be introduced to the judge via a ticket.

March 1, 1947, is the deadline on all village licenses. This date has been set by the village Board of Trustees. Penalties may be expected after March 1. Local business, dog, vehicle and juice box licenses are included

Three to be elected to library board

There are three members to be elected to the library board. Mrs. Helen Graham will be a candidate for re-election for a six year term. Vacancies exist for one six year term and for a two year term to fill places occurring when the members moved out of town.

No petition has yet been filed. Mrs. Irma Grose is the secretary. Nominating petitions, however, must be filed with Forest Davis, village clerk.

Three survivors of overturned truck

Above — Wilford Rule, driver of truck loaded with eggs and chickens that overturned into a basement in Arlington Heights Tuesday, leans on bumper and asks himself how he was fortunate enough to escape injury. Two other survivors, a pair of chickens, are perched in the center and may be wondering the same thing. Viewing the wreck with two truck drivers is Dan Schmeichel, owner of the basement.

Left — Nestled in the basement foundation is the overturned truck. Two hundred and eighty cases of eggs lie beneath it. In the background is the jeep, the truck's only obstacle in its path to its resting place.

Lectures here Sunday

Dr. Beryl D. Orris, psychiatrist, who will deliver the address in the third lecture of the Sunday evening series at the Arlington high school auditorium this Sunday at 8 p. m. Well known for his keen wit, and knowledge of his subject of juvenile delinquency, Dr. Orris promises to make as great an impression on his audience as the first two lecturers.

Psychiatrist to entertain high school students at Arlington Sunday

High school students of Arlington Heights are planning their own program with Dr. Orris this Sunday afternoon at the fieldhouse at 4 p. m. Dr. Orris, who will speak on the lecture series that evening, will deliver a special address to the teenagers of Arlington and adjoining communities. No admission will be charged and refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

A school committee headed by Carl Skoog, Jo Gilman and Barbara Page have prepared the entertainment which includes a number by a high school trio of Jean Baldwin, Jene Freymuth and Jo Anne Koester.

Adult clothing class opens at Arlington

Adult class in "clothing construction" is scheduled to start this Thursday night, February 13, at Arlington Heights high school with Miss Handlin of the faculty in charge. The class, practically filled to the top, will open its sessions at 7:30 p. m.

Advisory group help assessor fix values

Theodore Studtman, Wheeling township assessor reports that he has had excellent cooperation from the advisory groups which are aiding him in equalizing assessments throughout the various areas of the township. The present building activity has rejuvenated many property values. This is particularly true in subdivisions which have lain dormant for the past twenty years. Today the value of that land has risen and there is no reason why it should not be assessed for a fair value, equalized with other similar sections of the area.

Mr. Studtman has held many meetings with the advisory groups representing Arlington Heights, Prospect Heights, Wheeling village and the farm areas.

Farm land that is being subdivided and areas on which zoning changes have been made will have increased assessed valuation. The local committees, however, are taking into consideration the fact that after they complete their work, the county assessor will be compelled to make a 1.59 increase over all values that have been set by them.

Palatine committees

Herman Devermann, Palatine Assessor has appointed two advisory committees to assist him in the quadrennial assessment of real estate. The members of the village committee are Tom C. Hart, H. H. Schoppe and Wm. Kehe. The committee in charge of the farms are Wm. Bauman, Ernst Plote Jr. and Dan Bergman.

These committees expect to start work next week following a meeting of all county assessors at which general instructions will be given to the township men.

Two groups in Elk Grove

Otto Busse, Elk Grove assessor, has appointed two committees, which will hold their first meeting within the next ten days. He does not expect any difficulty in reaching agreements on values.

The quadrennial re-assessment of realty occurs this year. Such values, except where improvements occur, will remain for the next four years.

County checks values

O. S. Johnson, Mt. Prospect, recently the county assessor's office in the Northwest towns and has made personal inspection of all properties. "There is not a road, street or alley that I have not visited," stated Mr. Johnson Tuesday, "and I will be able to sit down with the local committees and intelligently check values as set by the local assessors."

Open house at high school

Next Monday evening, February 11, will be open house at the Arlington High School. A program has been arranged which should be of interest to all who are interested in the future of public education in our state. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

Monday night's program will include the following: The National Anthem by the band and orchestra, a fifteen minute band concert, introduction of platform guests, school news by T. R. Ehrhorn, principal, address by Supt. Pease of LaGrange and selections by the boys' chorus.

After the close of the formal program there will be a thirty minute classroom visitation period. All instructors will be available for brief conference during this time. Refreshments in the school cafeteria will bring down the curtain on the evening's activities.

Culligan Soft Water Service open house Saturday afternoon

Customers and friends of the Culligan Soft Water Service have received announcements of the open house Saturday that will be held by the company at its own building, recently acquired at 3 Central road, Mt. Prospect. A lot of modern equipment has been installed. Customers will have the opportunity to see for themselves the scientific manner of treatment given the water softening tanks that are placed in the home.

Provision has been made for the reception of several hundred visitors. "Persons who at present do not have the advantage of water softening equipment in their homes are especially invited to look the plant over," says Mr. Chmelik.

Rheumatic fever is a disease that usually strikes children or young people; it is characterized by pain in the joints, and may be accompanied by a fever.

Serious cases will demand the physician's care — but it is the slight attacks that often miss medical attention. Yet it is these less serious cases that often produce heart disease in later life.

When your child complains of pains in the legs or arms, however slight, let the physician check him or her for rheumatic fever.

Let medication compounded of fresh effective drugs by supplied by a trusted druggist.

New sugar stamp April 1

Spare stamp 53 in ration book 4, now valid for five pounds of sugar, will expire for consumer use at midnight March 31 and another stamp in that ration book, good for 10 pounds of sugar, will be validated April 1, to cover both home canning and regular home use, it was announced by Gabriel C. Garro, chief of the Chicago sugar rationing branch office, OPA.

The number of the stamp to be validated April 1 will be made known at a later date, he said.

"To avoid the expense of printing and distributing new sugar ration books, all stamps made valid April 1 and after will be good for 10, rather than five, pounds of sugar," Garro explained.

He pointed out that after stamp 53 is used, only four stamps will remain in ration book 4, of which about 20 million copies have been issued nationally.

"The four remaining stamps, at the rate of five pounds each, are not adequate to provide consumers with their proper ration," Garro said.

Stamps in both ration book 4 and in the "sugar ration books" issued to returned servicemen and to other consumers as replacements for lost or mutilated books will be validated henceforth for 10 pounds each.

It is necessary to terminate stamp 53 a month earlier than originally announced in order to avoid the trade problem of handling both 5 and 10-pound stamps at the same time, according to Garro.

He added that all consumers, at this date, have adequate opportunity to "cash" stamp 53 before its new expiration date, March 31, midnight.

No special stamps for home canning sugar will be validated in the future, stamps to be made good during the rest of 1947 providing sugar both for regular home use and home canning.

Girl Scout troop news

Monday, February 10, a special business meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Q. K. Ford, leader of Arlington Heights Troop 5. The purpose of the meeting was for the election of officers. The following were elected: president, Dolores Dione; vice president, Barbara Lyon; secretary, Pat Shanley; treasurer, Judy Christman; and scribe, Donna Zinkel.

After the business meeting the troop was surprised with a Valentine party.

Troop 7
Tuesday, February 11, members of Troop 7, fifth grade girls from the North school, enjoyed a Valentine party. Entertainment and refreshments were planned by the group. The girls exchanged surprise gifts. Members of this troop have recently received their arm badges and have almost completed their second class badges. The group recently elected patrol leaders who are Mary Ann Muzino and Joyce Haemker.

Troop 12
The following officers have been elected to serve for the rest of the year: president, Darlene McDougall; vice president, Julie Hinds; and treasurer, Dolores Frost. Members of this troop are working on their hostess badge.

Troop 13
Monday, February 10, the sixth grade girls of the North school members of Troop 13, held a Valentine party. Refreshments of cupcakes and ice cream were served, after which the girls played games and had a Valentine box.

Mrs. C. F. Hamburg, Mrs. W. J. Kerr and Mrs. C. C. Robinson assisted Mrs. T. L. Archibald the leader in making the party a success.

The Golden Text was:
"This is the word of the Lord unto Zerrubbabel, saying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts" (Zech. 4: 6).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,) But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom all are things and we in him; . . . God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (1 Cor. 8: 5, 6; John 4: 24).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"In Christian Science, Spirit, as a proper noun, is the name of the Supreme Being. It means quantity and quality, and applies exclusively to God. The modifying derivatives of the word spirit refer only to quality, not to God . . . Spirit being God, there is but one Spirit, for there can be but one infinite and therefore one God . . . Spirit, God, has created all in and of Himself. Spirit never created matter. There is nothing in Spirit out of which matter could be made, for as the Bible declares, without the Logos, the Word, or Word of God, 'was not anything made that was made.' Spirit is the only substance, the invisible and indivisible infinite God" (pp. 93, 334, 335).

News of VFW Post 981

This Friday night the Arlington Heights VFW Post 981 will have another one of its famous "Smokers." It is to be held at the field house at 8:30 p. m. and is a "stag" affair open to the general public.

Among the evening's highlights will be the "Dutch Luncheon," and movies shown through the courtesy of the U. S. Army Recruiting office of Evanston, with Pfc. Godfrey operating the camera. Tickets are $1 per person.

The Post will hold a special meeting tonight, Thursday, at 8 p. m. in the Firemen's room at the village hall. Members are invited to attend.

Captain Boyd Rowe, one of the Post's active members, will leave shortly for occupational duty in Japan.

Regular meetings of VFW Post 981 are held on the second and fourth Friday of the month. There will be an election of officers in the near future.

The navy's "Operation Reunion" will be held Sunday, February 16, and 25,000 former blue-jackets and marines are expected to attend this affair, which will be held at the U. S. naval air station, Glenview.

USS Wisconsin to go on second cruise

The battleship, USS Wisconsin, is scheduled to sail March 30, which will be its second training cruise. The cruise will last two weeks and all reservists desiring to take this cruise should make application immediately to Director of Training, Ninth Naval District, U. S. Training Center, Great Lakes.

Dr. Viola Theman of Northwestern University PTA speaker Tuesday

"Children's Participation in School and Civic Activities" will be Dr. Theman's topic Tuesday evening when she addresses members of the Arlington Hts. Parent Teacher Association in the North School auditorium. Terms such as "democratic participation" and "civic responsibility" will take on new meaning and importance as they are explained by an expert in the field of education.

For the past few years, Dr. Theman has been assistant professor in Education at Northwestern University. Previously she has been associated with the University of Pennsylvania and acted as supervisor of elementary education in the public schools of East Orange, N. J. Just recently, she was asked to work on five films in Chicago, as educational collaborator.

An interesting skit dramatizing "Incidents in the History of the Flag" will be presented at the beginning of the meeting by students of the seventh and eighth grades. Refreshments will be served at the close of the program, with fourth grade mothers acting as hostesses.

FRIDAY IS DATE NIGHT—FEB. 14

Gloria Van, latest addition to the talent staff of WBBM, posed in a gorgeous array of valentine flowers between shows of "Across the Board," 5 to 5:15 P.M., and "Cinderella and Her Fella," 10:15 to 10:30 P.M.

NO ONE needs to remind our ex-servicemen that Valentine's day falls on Friday this year. They will never forget this traditionally sentimental day, because a couple of years ago they were sending their floral valentines by cable from the foxholes of France and Germany, ships at sea or the far reaches of the Pacific.

For the rest of us, there is the reminder to remember wives, mothers and sweethearts with flowers on FRIDAY, Feb. 14.

The florists tell us there are many more flowers this year for valentines. The Chicago growers now have the help of sons and employees, who were in service last year, and they promise us plentiful supplies of colorful roses and fragrant carnations. A couple of orchids, gardenias or camellias perched in the hair is a popular valentine mode. Too, the flowers of Spring are already seen in the flower shops. Spring tulips, daffodils and irises were grown early for us in the warm greenhouses.

There's a flower show coming to Chicago in March. Our readers can get advance sale tickets now at a saving in price. When you stop or call at your florist for your valentine, inquire about the flower show.

And here's a tip: The new shades of light-pink carnations are perfect for valentines.

College activities

At Valparaiso

Howard Hasz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hasz, was formally initiated recently into Omega Chi Beta, one of the eight fraternities on the campus of Valparaiso University.

Hasz is a sophomore at Valparaiso where he is majoring in English.

Registration for second semester has just begun at Valparaiso University and incomplete totals show that over 1,500 students have enrolled. Accommodations for this 200% increase above pre-war enrollments have been made through a program of campus expansion and use of government surplus for veterans.

A $1,600,000 fund raising effort is being conducted by Valparaiso University in which Lutheran supporters and congregations throughout the country are contributing.

At Miami U.

Recently published statistics show that there are 149 Illinois students attending Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. New York leads in the number of out-of-state students at the institution (153), with Illinois and Indiana tying for second place with 149 students each.

Publication of the university directory was later than usual this year due to the heavy enrollment, which hit an all-time high of 4559 students.

David Howlett of Palatine is included.

At Butler

Robert E. Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milo R. Little, 608 Newburg road, is among 4,300 students who have registered at Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind., for the second semester which started Feb. 3 and will end June 9 with the 92nd annual commencement exercises.

Butler University now has the largest enrollment in the history of the school. Approximately fifty-five to sixty percent of the students enrolled are veterans according to figures of Dr. C. R. Maxam, registrar.

Mr. Little, a sophomore in the University College, is majoring in business administration.

Graduates from Beloit

James W. Erdevig of Palatine graduated from Beloit college, Beloit, Wisconsin, February 5. He is now attending the Chicago Division of the School of Commerce of Northwestern University, in order to obtain his Master's Degree in Real Estate and Business Administration.

Christened Sunday

Marilyn Jean, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Mangels of Palatine, was christened Sunday at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. John Wente. Rev. Glen G. Gumm of St. Paul's church, Palatine, officiated.

Harold J. Mangels and Mrs. Orville Helms of Palatine, and Jean Gyllenberg of Chicago, were sponsors for Marilyn. Twenty relatives and friends were present for the christening.

Initiated into sorority

Miss Audrey Joan Little of Arlington Heights was initiated into Tau Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Theta National Sorority Sunday, February 2, at Northwestern University, Evanston. The Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority is the oldest fraternity for women and was founded at De Pauw University at Greencastle, Ind., in 1870.

Miss Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milo R. Little, 608 Newburg Place, Arlington Hts., is a graduate of the Arlington Heights township high school and is now a freshman in the liberal arts course at Northwestern university.

At Illinois Wesleyan

Marvin Kamps, son of Mrs. Martin Kamps, 14 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, has been accepted for admission to Illinois Wesleyan university, Bloomington, it was revealed today.

Mr. Kamps is one of one hundred and thirty-five students who were permitted to enter Wesleyan during the second semester, which got underway Monday, Feb. 3. Second semester enrollment was confined to one hundred and thirty-five because of classroom and housing limitations created by the record breaking student body of 1,150.

Last spring Mr. Kamps was graduated from Arlington Hts. township high school.

Local people given honors by Loyola

Loyola university's midyear commencement was held this week in Madonna Della Strada chapel on Lake Shore campus, 6525 Sheridan rd., Chicago.

Graduate and undergraduate degrees were conferred by the Very Rev. James T. Hussey, president, to 215 students including 17 from the northwest side. Bachelor's degree was awarded to Avery Wolfrum, Palatine, and Bachelor of Science in Commerce to Francis Hinsberger, 402 N. Pine ave., Arlington Heights.

Robert Reed receives BS degree from UI

A Bachelor of Science degree was received by Robert Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Reed of Arlington Heights. He graduated February 2 from the University of Illinois with honors.

Bob was appointed to assistantship in agronomy research, and will use the knowledge obtained in this work for writing his thesis for his Master's degree.

Before completing his college Bob served three years with the Army engineers, serving more than a year in the European theatre. He was discharged in March 1946.

At Denison

Arthur C. Silber, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Silber, 740 Burton Place, Arlington Heights, is among the 1,253 students enrolled at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, for the second semester. While previously serving in the Marine Corps, he was stationed for a while in the unit at Denison.

Dorothy Maierhofer Gust Johnson say 'I do'

Miss Dorothy Maierhofer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Maierhofer of Arlington Heights, became the bride of Gust Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Carlson of Chicago, February 1. The double ring ceremony took place at the St. Peter Lutheran church and Rev. L. V. Stephan officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and she wore a wedding gown of white tulle and lace, styled with fitted bodice, having ruffled lace yoke, and long sleeves, edged in lace, and the skirt had a bustle of lace and ended in a long train. She wore a full length veil, with lace inserts, and it was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. The veil belonged to the bride's aunt, Mildred Carnehl. White calla lilies made up the bride's bouquet.

Mildred Carnehl served as matron of honor for the bride. Her dress was in pink tulle and lace, styled identically to the bride's. Blue feathers formed a headpiece and she carried a spray of mixed flowers, tied with a pink bow.

The bridesmaids were Nancy Lundgren, sister of the groom, Myrtle Engelking, Muriel Leuders, friends of the bride, and Diane Maierhofer, sister of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. They were gowned in blue dresses, styled as the matron of honor's, and carried sprays of mixed flowers. They had headpieces of pink feathers.

Barbara Lundgren, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a pink gown fashioned after the matron of honor's and carried a miniature spray of mixed flowers.

The bride's attendants were given gifts of rhinestone ear rings and bracelets. The flower girl received a heart locket.

Best man for the bridegroom was Louis Maierhofer, brother of the bride, and acting as ushers were Daryl Weining, Lowell Behnke, Elmer Sander and George Peters. Serving as ring bearer was Howard Sander, cousin of the bride. The bridegroom and all his attendants wore tuxedos and had boutonnieres of white carnations.

Mrs. Maierhofer wore for her daughter's wedding a blue crepe dress, trimmed with black sequins. The groom's mother wore a blue crepe dress, trimmed with silver sequins. Both had corsages of pink roses.

During the ceremony Miss Dorothy Meyer sang "Because" and "Take Thou My Hands."

After the bridal party had pictures taken, a chicken dinner was served to 35 guests at the Wheeling Hall. Later in the evening a reception was held at the Wheeling hall for about 350 guests. Dancing was enjoyed to the music furnished by the "Music Maker" orchestra of Chicago. A midnight buffet lunch was also served.

The Sunday afternoon and evening following the wedding day, the bride's parents held an open house in their home, at which time the couple opened their many wedding gifts. A buffet supper was served to 75 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will reside with the bride's parents for the present.

Army veteran marries in Italy

Mrs. Fred Felbinger, of Albert St., Mt. Prospect, has received word from her son, Pfc. Wade C. Parmelee, on duty with the 88th Division at Gorizia, Italy, that he has married Miss DeLoree Marie Furlau of Gorizia, Italy.

Parmelee is due to embark for the States shortly. He and his new bride will reside with his mother temporarily on his return to Mt. Prospect.

Wade, it will be recalled, figured in the news some months ago. At that time, unknown snipers in the tense Morgan line, in the Trieste area, fired on his army mobile motion picture truck. Parmelee returned the fire and came out of the incident unscathed.

Pioneers celebrate two birthdays

Two pioneers of Lake-Cook county celebrate their 94th and 92nd birthdays the coming week. Aug. C. Miller, Barrington, will be 94 years old February 14. His family are holding an open house Sunday. He was born in Germany and came to America when three years old.

Mrs. Caroline Buesching, Lake Zurich, will be 92 years old February 17. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thies. When 20 years old she married Wm. Buesching, residing on a farm adjoining Lake Zurich 45 years. She now lives with her daughter, Mrs. John Howe.

Other daughters are Mrs. Caroline Knigge, Barrington; Mrs. Minnie Fink and Mrs. Rosa Berghorn, Lake Zurich. There are four sons, Herman, Barrington; August and Fred, Lake Zurich; and William of Mundelein. She has 19 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Given stork shower

A surprise Stork shower was given Tuesday evening, February 4, in honor of Mrs. Arthur Guenther Jr. of Des Plaines, at the home of Mrs. Irvin Guenther, Rand road, Arlington Heights.

The living room of the Guenther home was decorated in pink and blue for the occasion. Sixteen guests were present to view the opening of the many lovely gifts. Later the group played buncle, with prizes going to Mesdames Norbert Withaeger, Kermit Hinz, Robert Wendorf, and O. Frank, for having high scores. The evening ended with the serving of refreshments.

Receives nurse's cap

Miss Lois McCoy of Glen Ellyn, formerly of Arlington Heights, was one of a class of student nurses to receive caps in a ceremony, which took place at St. Luke's hospital in Chicago, February 7.

Exchange marriage vows

The newlyweds pictured above are Mr. and Mrs. Merton Taylor of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Taylor is the former Marion Spoelein.

Ada Toepel and George Jahn are married here

In a single ring ceremony performed at St. Matthew's Lutheran church in East Maine, at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, February 8, Miss Ada Toepel became the bride of Mr. George Jahn. Ada is the daughter of Rev. Julius Toepel, who gave his daughter in marriage and also performed the ceremony. George is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jahn, Sr. of Ballard Road.

The church was decorated with baskets of white carnations and glads against a background of palms. The bride's sister, Mrs. Florence Domes presided at the organ.

The bride wore a powder-blue suit with white accessories. A blue feather hat with a short white veil and a gardenia corsage completed her costume. She carried a white New Testament from which fell streamers of white satin ribbon with gardenias attached.

Her attendants were her sister, Hildegard, as maid of honor and Eulalia Roberts as bridesmaid. Hildegard wore a brown suit with hat of gold sequins and Eulalia wore a gold colored suit with a brown sequined hat. Each wore a corsage of tea roses and like the bride, carried a New Testament with ribbon streamers.

Edwin Prafke served the groom as best man and Robert Nolte acted as groomsman. Thord Nicholson and Walter Domes were the ushers.

A reception was held at the parish hall with 70 guests attending, where refreshments consisting of sandwiches, coffee and wedding cake were served in buffet style.

The newlyweds are planning to make their home in Palatine as soon as their apartment is ready.

Two Northbrook weddings to be held Saturday

A nine o'clock nuptial mass to be held this Saturday morning, February 15, will unite in marriage Miss Florence Hopp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Hopp of Northbrook, and Donald Malin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Malin of Rochester, New York.

Maid of honor for Miss Hopp will be Miss Louise Hopp and her bridesmaid will be Miss Theresia Hopp, both of whom are sisters of the bride-to-be.

Mr. Malin's brother, Gordon Malin, will be best man, and Leo Hopp, brother of Miss Hopp, will act as usher.

Special guests at the wedding will be Mrs. Charles Malin and son, Gordon, who will come from Rochester, New York, for the occasion. A reception will follow the ceremony. The couple will make their home in Skokie.

The second wedding will be that of Miss Marjorie Thornmeyer and Elmer Olin. The candlelight ceremony will be held in the Presbyterian church and Rev. P. Lundell will read the solemn vows.

Matron of honor will be Miss Thornmeyer's sister-in-law, Mrs. W. R. Thornmeyer, and maid of honor will be Suzanne Randall of Evanston. Kenneth Forrey will serve Mr. Olin as best man, and ushers will be W. Griffiths and Frank Patton of Chicago.

Following the ceremony a reception will be held at the Woman's Literary club in Glencoe.

Are married

Miss Elizabeth Borre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Borre of Wilmette, became the bride of Mr. Willard Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoffman of Glenview, on January 25 at St. Joseph's Rectory in Wilmette.

Rev. Herbert Boesen officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Marie Borre was her sister's only attendant and Mr. John Schlessor of Niles was best man. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride.

'Art' heads program at Heights Woman's club

One hundred and twenty-five members of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club who braved the near zero weather last Wednesday afternoon to attend the regular meeting of the club were well rewarded by the outstanding program presented.

Miss Helen Parker, head of the department of education at the Chicago Art Institute, gave an interesting talk and showed colored slides of some of the best features of the permanent collections at the Institute.

She pointed out that "art" is not confined to painting alone and the Art Institute houses many collections of art objects other than painting, in particular, its exhibitions of pottery, porcelain, Irish glass and English silver. The decorative arts may be found on the lower floor at the Institute and a study of the 17th century hand-made American furniture or of the 17th century completely furnished Dutch room will animate the history of that period for any observer.

Because the sculpture which the Art Institute owns is scattered throughout the entire museum, most people fail to realize what a fine and comprehensive collection it is.

Miss Parker suggested that visitors to the Art Institute make their own collections of favorites from among the famous paintings in the permanent galleries and that in each return visit to see these paintings one will find new details of interest, in color, in design, or in subject. The slides of these famous paintings were shown in chronological order beginning with El Greco, 16th century Spanish painter, following through the works of well known Italian and French artists, and concluding with Picasso.

The musical portion of the program was furnished by the girls' triple trio from the Arlington Heights high school under the direction of Fred Schroyer. They gave a very finished performance of four numbers and were accompanied by Patricia Brock.

Red letter day at Charles Kule home

Last week was a red letter week in the home of the Charles Kule's at 211 S. Elmhurst ave., Mt. Prospect. On Tuesday evening Pat was taken in as a member of the National Honor Society of the Arlington Heights high school chapter.

On Saturday evening Betty, who completed her probationary period at the Evanston hospital was capped in a beautiful candle lighting ceremony. She accompanied one of her classmates who sang the Lord's Prayer at the piano and the student nurses all repeated the Florence Nightingale pledge, after which each girl received a white new testament.

Eight Arrests As 15 Lootings Are Solved

DuPage county police authorities this week closed a net around a burglary ring which had already placed eight in the county jail with warrants out for two more.

Those taken into custody are believed to be guilty of fifteen burglaries committed at Winfield, and in around Elmhurst during the past year. This information was disclosed recently by Sheriff Elmer J. Hoffman and Deputy Clifford Simpson, investigator for the sheriff's office whose detective work uncovered the necessary evidence to trap the alleged burglars.

Russell Berry of Maywood, who already is being held in the county jail in connection with the theft of 23 cases of whiskey from a Maywood tavern, has admitted to the theft of $600 worth of liquor from the VFW clubhouse on Geneva road last April 15 and $169 worth of liquor from the Town Tavern in Winfield last April 12. Simpson stated that Berry signed a statement to this effect, and that his statement also implicates three other companions, who are already behind the bars.

Warrants out
The three companions were Richard Schlottner of Villa Park, who is serving a 1-10 year term in the state prison; Patrick Mongoven of Elmhurst, who is serving a one year term in the House of Correction in Chicago; and Frank Major of Lombard, who is serving seven months. Simpson filed against all three of these men.

Arrest warrants are out for Calvin M. Lee, 21, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Delbert Shelley, 19, who was last heard from in Little Rock, Arkansas. Lee is being accused of having broken into the John J. Connors home in Winfield last December, stealing close to $500 worth of women's clothing. Lee had been previously employed as a male nurse at the Winfield Sanitarium and disappeared following the Connors burglary.

The 13 year old Shelley boy was connected with the 12 Elmhurst burglaries in which connection three other persons have already been taken into custody. They include two boys, James Foley, 16, and Melvin C. Schryer, 13, and Foley's brother-in-law, Arthur J. Boyd, 24, of Chicago. They are all being held in the county jail, bonded at $1,000 each. The loot from these 12 Elmhurst burglaries is estimated at $5,000, some of which was found in Boyd's Chicago apartment at the time of his arrest.

Richard Nielsen, another 13 year old, who is confined to a boys' home in Milwaukee, is also implicated in the Elmhurst thefts.

Public Service erects new substation

The new electric substation of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois at the corner of Smith and Colfax streets, Palatine, will be completed within the next few weeks, it was reported today by Martin Schreiber, district superintendent.

When in operation, it will provide a direct source of electric service to the town and adjoining rural areas from the company's interconnected transmission system replacing the present power feeds now emanating from Arlington Heights, Schreiber said.

Located on property purchased last summer by the company, the new substation combines the latest developments in electric apparatus. Upon completion, the grounds will be filled in and landscaped which will not only improve the appearance of the corner but will make the property one of the most attractive of its type in the company's service area.

Installation of the substation, according to Schreiber, is a part of the utility's postwar program designed to provide adequate and efficient electric service to meet the growing needs of the community and surrounding areas.

OUR INDUSTRIES — What they are doing

ARLINGTON CARBONATED BEVERAGE COMPANY

During the last cold snap the public hasn't thought much about cool refreshing drinks. However it won't be long before the hot summer months will be here and they will all be craving a constant supply of something cool to drink. In Arlington and vicinity for the last 75 years, this hot weather craving has been satisfied by a local concern. Until January, 1945, it was known as F. W. Mueller Sons. From that date it has been known as Arlington Carbonated Beverage Company.

However, despite the change in name, the old tradition of "pop" making is carried on. William Schild and H. E. Schumaker now own the business and they are determined to carry on with the same quality of products that has been made for the past years.

The name has been changed, but the same formulas are used in the mixing of the syrups and the making of the flavoring extracts. The water, as before, comes from the private well of the company. So it can readily be seen that every effort is being made by Schild and Schumaker to carry on the old Mueller tradition.

Arlington Carbonated has had its troubles with sugar just as every housewife in the land. When they took over in January 1945 the sugar allotment dropped from 80% to 50% (of 1941) within 3 months. Beginning this year the allotment was upped to 60%. This of course affects the entire production which is now only about 50% of capacity.

Another shortage that affects soft drink companies is bottles. Most of us, when we fail to return a "pop" bottle, feel that there is little loss. Actually there are 9,000 cases of Arlington Carbonated bottles in circulation — one third of these are lost or broken every year. Most of this loss could be easily averted if each one would be more careful with the soft drink bottles used. A bottle shortage both from the lack of manufacture and from careless consumers, will cut into production and as a result this coming summer when the urge to drink something cool comes along there won't be as much as the public wants.

A third shortage affecting the industry is crown caps. These are expendable items so there has to be a steady flow of supply. Tin plate has been released to the general market, but the crown cap supply has not yet become normal.

However, in spite of all the shortages and difficulties in the soft drink business, Arlington Carbonated still maintains high standards of cleanliness. The solution for washing the bottles is twice as powerful as that used by the dairies. The bottles are circulated in this solution for 20 minutes at a heat of 150 degrees. Then they are given three rinses to insure final cleaning. The bottles are also given two inspections to check on any imperfections or breakage.

Arlington Carbonated is a small industry along side of some of the factories that have been visited here in Arlington. It does not send its products throughout the world. But still it plays an important part in life around here during those hot sultry summer days when a bottle of "pop" is the answer to a thirsty man's prayer.

Twins celebrate sixteenth birthday

Twin brothers, Robert and Donald Neumann of Arlington Heights, celebrated their sixteenth birthday Sunday, February 9, with a dinner and theatre party. Ten of the boys' classmates made up the guest list.

Those invited were Gordon Busse, August Krause, Edgar Pfingsten, Kenneth Schmuldt, Kenneth D. Schroeder of Palatine, Kenneth W. Schroeder, Arnold Gobert, and Raymond Lumpkin.

Ice Wine
Some people say never put ice in a glass of wine, but there are others who say dry wine is much better with a cube of ice in it. As to which wine to serve with which food, the direction now is: "Serve the wine you like."

Arlington Cub Scouts elect new officers

New pack officials for the coming year were elected at the regular monthly meeting of Cub Pack 232 held in the conference room of the North school. They are Arthur Eppig, chairman; Victor Bedingfield, cubmaster; Charles Stadelman, assistant cubmaster and treasurer, and Edward Moritz was reelected to a third term as secretary.

The following den dads were present: Charles H. Doellefeld, Victor L. Bedingfield, Edward J. Moritz, Richard Michalski, Arthur G. Eppig, R. W. Fox, G. M. Eakins, John C. Kent, C. Stadelman, R. Laughlin and R. J. Malcomson.

Father and son banquet

The annual father and son banquet will be held Monday, February 17, at 7:00 o'clock in the gymnasium of the Methodist church. At this banquet two boys, Craig Baldwin and Stevie Kyska will receive the Webel rank, which is the highest cub rank. They will be inducted into Scout troop No. 7.

Four new cubs, Richard Stocking, Elwood Luerssen, Donald Hinrichs and Fredrick Doellefeld, will be inducted into cub pack 232 in a colorful Indian ceremony. The ceremony will be conducted by members of Dens 3 and 9. Jimmie Thomson will play the part of Akela, Rodney Peltier, Baleou, Donald Bedingfield, Bagheera and Jimmie Brazleton the part of the "Medicine Man."

Other awards

Bear, Wolf and Lion awards will be presented to a number of cubs who have satisfactorily completed the prescribed work. About 75 boys will proudly display their handwork in the form of shoe shine stands which were made by them as a project for January. Valuable prizes will be given to all boys whose project meets the approval of the committee.

Professional entertainment will top off the evening in the form of juggling acts, a comedian and a top rate puppet show.

Cloud Meter
An electrical cloud meter will aid flying weather stations in determining the severity of icing conditions.

Scout troop 32 organizes and plans for '47

Plans were laid and officers elected for the coming year at the monthly meeting of the Boy Scout Troop 32 committee held last Wednesday evening in Arlington Heights.

Committee officers were re-elected for the 1947-48 season. Vernon A. Sturm will continue as chairman, P. K. Neuses as secretary and Robert T. Evans as treasurer. The scoutmaster of Troop 32, which is sponsored by The Arlington Heights Parent-Teacher Association, is A. G. Cubley and other committee members are Park Allen, B. L. Cochran, Frank Havranek, Rudy Holmes and Richard Lull.

Scoutmaster Cubley reported on the most recent of the series of camping trips conducted this winter. The camp was held at Camp Dan Beard on the Des Plaines river near Wheeling. Twenty boys spent the week end sleeping in tents and in cabins, and enjoying robust camping fare. The scoutmaster expressed gratification at the progress shown by the boys in ability to keep themselves comfortable while roughing it.

Among the plans discussed for the coming year are a series of bicycle trips and an Abraham Lincoln Tour. This will be a four or five day motor trip downstate, visiting the historic shrines connected with the early life of this great American.

Card parties given for benefit public library

"All At Once" card parties will be held in Arlington Heights February 20. These parties, sponsored by the Education Committee of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club, will be held in individual homes, as each member of the Woman's club was asked to entertain a foursome at cards. The guests will donate 75 cents each, the proceeds of which will go to the Arlington Heights public library.

At this writing more than 400 people are planning to attend these benefit card parties, and more than 75 individual donations have been made by members who couldn't entertain in their homes.

Any Woman's club member who wishes to sponsor a foursome have, as yet, made no arrangements, is asked to contact Mrs. R. E. Clabaugh, Arlington Heights.

Service BULLETIN

It was fun rediscovering some of the ridiculous beliefs held by the ancients as revealed in their gardening and botanical books. Wondrous indeed were the properties of the herb. With this charm, the early botanist was equal to any emergency.

A panacea for anything and everything was the herb. Toothache. The bald pate. Melancholia. Courage. Romance. Snoozing. Imbibing too freely. Too, the old boys had some odd notions concerning the proper growing of herbs. One thrived best when stolen from a neighbor's garden—another, when sown with cursing and railing. This and other plant lore is all there in THE HERB GARDEN.

THE HERB GARDEN

Good Housewife provides, etc a sickness do come. of sandy good things in her house to have some. Good Aqua Composita, and vinegar tart. Rose-water and Treacle, to comfort their heart. Cold herbs in her garden, for agues that burn. Cold over-strong heat to good temper may turn. In health to be stirring, shall profit these best. In sickness hath trouble, seek quiet and rest. Remember thy soul, let no fancy prevail. make ready to God-ward, let faith never fail. The sooner thyself thou comittest to God, the sooner he ceaseth to scourge with his rod.

THOMAS TUSSEY, Gen.

for the doers

for imbibers

of a bat on the right arm should be sufficient to arouse almost anyone.

Treatment of melancholia presented no problem to the old writers who prescribed decoctions of thyme, sweet bala, clay, or honey steeped in wine. After several broths, no doubt the depressed one's mind did become merry and glad. But the next day he may have been too frail to appreciate his improved mental state. However, Charles Estienne, equal to any emergency, quickly suggests:

"If the head complains itself of too much Drinke, there may be made a Frenetill with wild Time, Madia Haire, and Rue."

This makes everything just dandy unless wearing the thing in public brings back the melancholia.

According to one book on plant lore a row of onions hung over your door absorbed all contagious diseases from those who came in.

Bary Langley of Twickenham (his name, not our opinion) says in his "Principles of Gardening":

"The leaves of Rue sown with the Words of Salomon, are very good against all infectious Aires, Pustules, Plagues, Fevers, etc."

Of course this recipe would take more time than you'd really feel secure about the whole thing.

Play has a great deal to say on the subject of...

anise • balm • basil • bergamot • borage • caraway • chives •

Augusta Lewerenz

The last rites for Augusta Lewerenz, East River road, Des Plaines, were held Wednesday from the Immanuel Lutheran church, Des Plaines, at 2 p. m. Rev. Alan Fedder was in charge of the service and interment was in St. Paul's cemetery, Skokie.

Mrs. Lewerenz was born in Niles Center August 6, 1877 and was married to William Lewerenz September 26, 1896. She passed away February 9, at the Lutheran Deaconess hospital in Chicago.

She is survived by her husband, William; two daughters, Emily and Ella Schurr; three sons, Carl, William and Raymond; and three grandchildren.

Albert Grunst

Funeral services were held by the Krustens-Fairbanks funeral home from the Ev. Lutheran Old Folks home Sunday, February 9. Remains were taken to the Cervak funeral home in Chicago where funeral service was held Tuesday. Interment was in the Bethania cemetery.

Albert Grunst was born June 5, 1853, in Julow, Germany. He came to this country in 1882. On February 18, 1923, he entered the Ev. Lutheran Old Folks Home and for the past 18 years has resided there until Saturday morning, February 8, where he passed away at the age of 69 years, 8 months and 3 days.

He leaves to mourn his departure three sons, Elmer, Albert and Walter; two daughters, Mrs. Alma Weiss and Mrs. Lily Novak.

Emma Wille

Services for Emma Wille, Algonquin road, Elk Grove township, were held Tuesday from the Des Plaines Lutheran church, Des Plaines, at 2 p. m. Rev. G. Gehrs officiated. Burial was in Elk Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Wille was born November 26, 1852 in Elk Grove. She was married October 8, 1903 to William C. Wille. She has resided in the Elk Grove territory all her life. Mrs. Wille passed away February 7.

The deceased leaves to mourn her husband, William; two sons, Franklin and Theodore; a daughter, Alma Boesche; three grandchildren; three sisters, Martha Staat, Emma Pohlman, and Mathilda Huebner; and six brothers, Fred, Henry, Louis, August, Alvin and Herman Behrens.

Mrs. Catherine Weidner

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning from Lutheran church, Des Plaines, for Mrs. Catherine Weidner, nee Schmitt, who passed away Feb. 8 at her home 115 North Pine, Arlington Hts. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery, Buffalo Grove.

Deceased leaves four sons, Leonard, Edwin, Joseph and Richard; one daughter, Mrs. Genevieve Lothary, Palatine; nine grandchildren and one sister, Christine Emmerich of Buffalo Grove.

Mrs. Weidner was born in Buffalo Grove July 16, 1875. She married Charles J. Weidner June 29, 1897, who died August 19, 1941. The family has resided in Arlington Heights since 1923. She was a member of Woman's Guild of St. James and the Rosary Sodality of both St. James and St. Marys.

RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

BILL NORTH

"Taps" Hines well deserves our "White Orchids" for this week because of her tireless and unexcelled work in helping to make the Y. C. the fine Youth Center it is. Working voluntarily, she helps Mrs. Mills in the dancing classes, works on the Ramble Inn planning committee, helps in the Coke bar and does innumerable other jobs.

"Taps" commutes every day to Central High where she is a senior. She went to Arlington her first year. So Taps this is to thank you on behalf of the kids at the Y. C. and also for the adult supervisors, for you have been a most pleasant and essential factor in Ramble Inn's success.

—Y. C.—
In the story on Jean Baldwin, this writer neglected to say that all records used by the Y. C. are donated by Mr. and Mrs. Schapanski, owners of the Arlington Record Shop. That was an inexcusable error on my part as Mr. and Mrs. Schapanski have donated these records ever since the Youth Center was first opened.

—Y. C.—
The Youth Center will not be open on either tomorrow night, February 14th, or the next night, February 15th. On February 14th, Arlington plays Crystal Lake in a game that might well decide the championship of the Northeast Conference. Let's all get to Crystal Lake by hook or crook and cheer our boys to a lopsided victory.

On the next night, the Arlington High Junior Class is sponsoring the "Lovers Leap." This Valentine dance will take place in the high school cafeteria and will start at 9:00 p. m. The Y. C. hopes that everyone will attend these two major school events.

—Y. C.—
Zounds and Gadzooks!! You mean to say you haven't heard of the Y. C. Roller Jamboree? It's the biggest even in a coon's age. If you aren't on that party you'll hate yourself in the morning.

Deny cocktail lounge at Roselle Golf Club

A golf course cocktail lounge and trailer camp for the north suburban area were barred when the county board public service committee Friday concurred in action by the zoning board of appeals denying three applications for rezoning and granting two for the area. Two more petitions were withdrawn and five new ones filed.

The Roselle Golf club, Roselle, asked rezoning of a 200-foot-square area on the club grounds 1,245 feet east of Roselle road, 1/2 mile north of Schaumburg road, from farming to business-tavern and amusement, to permit installation of a cocktail lounge for thirsty golfers.

The report of the zoning board denying the request pointed out that eight persons living in the area objected and concluded "the evidence is not convincing as to the public need or general desirability of the change."

Max C. Redemski, 6632 Dakin street, Chicago, asked rezoning of 3.515 acres on the north side of Irving Park road between Olcott and Oleander avenues, Norwood Park township, from farming to business to permit a trailer camp with utility buildings.

The denial order pointed out that School District 80, consisting of the James G. School, 4251 Oriole avenue, and Annex, 7200 Irving Park road, as well as the township, had objected among other property owners.

The third petition denied was that of Joseph Pagani, Glenview, asking rezoning of 2 acres on the south side of Illinois street between Sherman avenue and the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, and Pacific railroad tracks, just across Illinois street from the village of Northbrook, from farming to light industrial.

Pagani had "no immediate plan for development" and Northbrook objected officially and in writing, the report pointed out.

Withdrawn was a petition by Roy L. LaLonde, Palatine, for the rezoning of the southwest corner of Baldwin road and Morrison avenue, in Palatine township, from residence 10,000 square feet to business.

The new petitions filed and referred to the zoning board were:

Edward Olson, Palatine; southwest corner of Sterling and Morrison avenues, Palatine township, from residence 10,000 square feet to business.

Walter Heinze, Rand road and Clarence avenue, Arlington Hts., submitted by Attorney George Kandlik, 2361 Milwaukee ave.; southwest corner of Rand road and Clarence avenue, Wheeling

WHY DID JESUS DIE?

For more than 1900 years the eyes of the Christian world have been focused on the Cross of Christ. What was the purpose of that cross? Why did Jesus die?

Men have given many answers to that question. Many of them have missed the mark by far. But what did Christ and His apostles have to say about the purpose of His death? Plenty! Just listen to these Bible statements:

"God commendeth His love toward us in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." "Christ died for the ungodly." "Christ died for our sins."

"God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them." "The blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son, cleanseth us from all sin."

In other words, when Jesus died on the cross He was suffering the punishment and removing the guilt of all the sins of all the world. He died substitutionally — for us.

Whether you realize it or not, it was for you that Christ died. Salvation is now yours — full, free, and final. "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." — That is why Jesus died!

If you would like to know more about the teachings of the Christian religion, or if you have no church affiliation and are in need of spiritual counsel, please call on us.

We invite you to come and hear more of this Gospel at

Bensenville cops two easy victories at Grant Friday

Bensenville high school's basketball squad notched two easy games at Grant Friday night when the locals won, 53-31, in the varsity game, and 49-21 in the junior division.

The varsity grabbed an early 11-7 lead, and never relinquished, outscoring their opponents 16-4 the second period. Third segment tally was 12-3, while local subs were outplayed 17-14 the last period.

Thollander again led his mates in scoring with four baskets and eight of thirteen chances. Borg sank seven buckets for 14 points, while Vuglar notched four and three for a 11 score. Again every man rated the scoring column.

Haiman led the Grant five with eight points. The Bisons hit a good percentage of their shots the first half, sinking 11 of 33, but fell to 2 of 30 the second. Grant started slow with a 4 of 19 record, but finished with a 8 of 21 tally.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD MCELROY

As we write this column on Monday night the Tuesday games of this week have not been played. The Northwest Conference is nearing its close and one of the climax games is Tuesday night when Palatine must beat Ela to keep alive the championship hopes of the Pirates and Barrington Bronchos. Last Friday Barrington trounced Ela. Palatine must do the same and throw the league into a three way tie for first place. If this occurs Ela still may come out on top undisputed. This is how it may happen. Friday Ela plays their final game against a setup Northbrook team. Barrington meets an Antioch team that can be tough on the Broncho's court, a probable win for Barrington.

Meanwhile Palatine plays at Bensenville with a good chance to lose since the Bisons are the toughest team in the league right now and have the home court advantage. However even if Palatine should lose they will have the edge at home against Barrington and might knock them out February 22 in the final game. This would leave Ela with a 11-3 record and Palatine and Barrington 10-4.

If both Barrington and Palatine sweep games Tuesday and Friday this week, which could easily happen, they would find themselves in the position of meeting at Palatine on Saturday, February 22, with a share of the championship at stake and what a ball game and what fan interest that would generate. We hope it happens. Both Pirates and Bronchos are playing their best ball of the season right now and deserve such a shot at top honors.

Cardinals big chance at Crystal Lake Friday

Meanwhile over in the Northeast conference Arlington's chance is coming. Since in mid December when Arlington lost to Crystal Lake by one point the Cards have been trailing the Tigers, a game behind in the runner up spot. Friday the Cards get their big chance in their next to the last game when they travel to Crystal Lake.

If the Cards win they can tie for first place but still would have Lake Forest to subvert Friday, February 21. Niles finishes the season Friday with Arlington but was scheduled to meet toward Crystal Lake at Skokie Tuesday while Arlington was coasting along against Warren. So things have developed to the point where the Arlington-Crystal Lake game is a championship contest and if the Cards should win to throw the race into a tie the game the next week with Lake Forest would certainly take on added significance for the Cardinals.

We are pulling for Coach Iba's Cards to stop Holt and share a title with the Tigers. Nelson, high scoring Crystal Lake forward has not appeared in their last two games for some reason. Without him Arlington has a good chance.

We like Paris and Dundee for state leaders

The state ratings of basketball teams for the week seem to favor Kewanee for the first spot. According to what we hear and read we are inclined to feel that Paris and Dundee should rank one-two in the state at this point with Kewanee and Champaign following for third and fourth and Morton, Elgin, and East Rockford in the next spots. Would not surprise us a bit to see Paris and Dundee in the state finals.

Northwest league needs better officiating

Last Friday we sat in on the Barrington-Ela fracas while Palatine was playing at Antioch and saw one of the roughest games we have witnessed in several years. The officials seemed to be just innocent bystanders who did not want to get involved by blowing their whistles. We understand that the game at Antioch the same night was another example of officials letting the game get out of hand.

There are those who think there is too much whistle tooting by the officials. We have yet to see it this year in our conference. When games are played in cramped quarters as most of the Northwest conference gym the officials must be on their toes, keep the game under control, and promptly penalize rough and unnecessary bodily contact

Arlington hopes for title share Friday

In what should be the deciding game of the conference schedule for Arlington fans, Coach Clarence Iba's second place Cardinals play at Crystal Lake Friday night with the hopes of bringing back a share of the league championship. This is written on the assumption that Warren fell to the locals Tuesday night, four hours after this is written for this week's edition.

Crystal Lake holds the edge of a one-point victory over the Cardinals last December, and rate a slight favorite in this game. But Arlington will be gunning for victory number ten and a tie for first if they can end up on the long end of the score.

Palatine at Bensenville

Top game on the Northwest conference card Friday night concerns the Palatine game at Bensenville. Again, as a Palatine fan, this reporter has hoped for a Pirate victory over Ela Tuesday night, and is writing this story with that in mind.

Palatine will be fighting for a victory and a share of conference laurels, plus revenge for an earlier defeat. Coach Menegu's Bisons will be playing only for the chance to again beat Palatine, their No. 1 enemy of current years.

The DuPage county frosh-soph will also have plenty at stake Friday night when they endeavor to remain in first place of the junior standings. This will be the Bisons' final scheduled game of conference play.

Tobogganing at Skycrest

The rolling hills of Skycrest Country Club on Chicago's north shore have become a convenient mecca for Arlington Heights winter sports enthusiasts, including Lenay Gabel, Maureen Barrett and Betty Belinger pictured above.

The toboggan slide and bobsled runs have been kept busy week ends by crowds of club members that rival the busiest days of the summer golf season.

In addition to tobogganing, there is skating on the lagoon, and weekly classes in ski instruction conducted by Professional George Babbe of Evanston.

The regular facilities of the club, locker rooms, dining room and bar, to give the winter sportsman all the comforts of home, are in full operation. A roaring fire in the big fireplace in the club lounge is a gathering spot for family groups.

A farce

Wauconda stalls, but Bisons win 56-28, 19-7

Bensenville's frosh-soph squad provided the only "unusual" aspect of basketball Tuesday when the locals journeyed to Wauconda for an alleged conference game. The hosts were determined to keep the score down, and they succeeded in that respect. The junior Bisons won, 19-7.

Wauconda attempted to stall the first three periods, standing with the ball and pointing to the scoreboard. First period tally was 4-0, halftime was 7-3. Third segment was the worst exhibition of sports for the fans when the losers took nary a shot, and permitted the Bisons to take two, one of which swished the hoop.

The varsity game saw Coach Menegu's boys have everything in their own way, after a slow stalling first period score, 7-3. The Bisons led 22-7 at halftime and 37-18 at the three-quarter mark.

Borg with eight buckets, Steffenson with 13 tallies, Thollander with 13 and Vuglar with 11 accounted for all but one point. Matthews led the losers with 11 scores.

Crystal Lake takes another—at Niles

Crystal Lake's undefeated Tigers outlasted Niles and pulled away from a third period tie score to a 56-45 victory Tuesday night for their 11th straight Northeast Conference win of the season. Big six foot five Don Holt had a great evening as he located the hoop for 13 field goals and a free toss for 27 points.

Bob Nelson missed his third game in a row due to a severe chafed horse, but he was not badly needed after the Lakers put on the pressure in the final eight, minutes. The score was tied at 40 all going into the last segment.

Open in 2 weeks

Give regional pairings for local schools

Palatine meets Elgin and Arlington takes on the Hebron District winner in the first round of the regional tournament at Woodstock the first week in March. These two first round games are in the lower bracket and are the same setup as last year. In the upper bracket Dundee meets McHenry and Crystal Lake plays Woodstock. The last three years Palatine has opened regional play against Elgin.

In the Wauconda district of the Waukegan region the favored and first ranking team is Lake Forest playing in the upper bracket against Wauconda, while Antioch meets Warren, the lower bracket. Ela and Barrington are seeded. Ela meets Northbrook while Barrington meets the winner of the Grayslake-Grant game. Lake Forest should win the tournament handsily. All the Northwest Conference except Palatine and Bensenville are in the Wauconda district.

York regional

In the York regional Bensenville's Bisons are slated to compete against Glenbard in their first tilt. Other teams matched are York vs. Hinsdale, Maine vs. Immaculate Conception of Elmhurst, and Downers Grove vs. Lisle district winner.

Only four schools will compete the week previous at the Lisle district, St. Procopius of Lisle, St. Mary's of Des Plaines and Fournier Institute of Lisle.

Frosh-sophs win

Palatine outplays Antioch to keep title hopes alive, 37-27

Palatine whipped both Antioch teams Friday night for the second time this season. The varsity stayed in the running for the league title by winning 37-27. The frosh-sophs entrenched themselves in third place with a 40-32 victory.

Coach Stutzman's varsity team ran up a 16-7 first quarter lead which they increased to 24-10 at the half as they flashed a consistently good offense and defense against a team which had figured on defeating them. Kolze scored eight points, Pepper seven, and Zoellick six in the first half.

Game rough in second half

In the second half Antioch became very aggressive, and the game turned into a rough and tumble battle in which good basketball was impossible. Palatine scored but three points in the third quarter but Bob Birks came through with eight points in the final period to stop any hopes Antioch may have had of overtaking the Pirates. Jones scored nine points, Fields seven and Osenbaugh six for Coach Kruzan's Antioch Sequoits. Kolze had 11, including seven out of eight free throws, Birks had 11, Pepper eight, and Zoellick six for all but one of Palatine's points.

Frosh-sophs win, 40-32

The Palatine frosh-soph team was pushed all the way except in the third quarter. After a 17-16 half time score the young Pirates scored 10 to their opponents two in the third segment to gain the winning margin. Frank Orzolek with 11 points and Jim Kendzie with 10 again were Palatine's best shooters. Palatine missed 17 out of 25 free throws but hit well enough from the field to win the decision. Johnson scored eight, Radke seven, and Ostrand six points for Antioch. It was the seventh victory in 11 games for Coach M. M. Plate's team.

Ela succumbs to Barrington

Barrington reduced Ela's league lead to one game Friday night as they overpowered the Bears 49-31 in a one-sided ball game. The Bronchos played a fast aggressive game and controlled the ball of both backboards. Hitting consistently from the start they rolled up a 11-4 lead in the first quarter which they increased to 25-13 at half time. With the count 35-20 in the final quarter Coach Paul Fry sent in reserves to finish the game.

Walter Kocher, league leading scorer, was too fast, accurate and aggressive for the Ela boys. Kocher took 20 shots from the field and made 10, five of which were from long range, and totaled 23 points in 24 minutes of playing. This moved his scoring total for 11 games to 168 points, better than a 15 point average. Jahnke and Pomeroy also looked good on a Barrington team which was definitely primed to win and playing its best ball of the season.

Ela was never in the ball game. Their shooting was off form, their passes were intercepted, they had the ball stolen from them and got the worst of it all around in a very rough ball game.

Barrington, tied for the frosh-soph lead with Bensenville, got a scare in the last quarter when Ela found themselves and made a game out of a walkaway but finally lost 38-34 for Barrington's 10th victory. Barrington had a 15 point lead going into the final period. Prouty fired most of the last quarter fireworks for Ela but it was started too late.

A. A. A. junior cagers out for trophy

The Arlington Athletic Association sponsored junior basketball tournament enjoyed added impetus this week when the club announced that an 18-inch trophy and individual gold-plated basketball charms would be awarded the winners.

In the curtain raiser Tuesday night St. James outshot St. Paul of Mt. Prospect 17 to 14. The second game brought together the Methodist and Presbyterian quints in a spirited game which ended by a score of 18 to 17 with the Methodist team on the long end. This week's final game was between the Lutheran church five and the Mt. Prospect public school entry. The Mt. Prospectians won, 18 to 13.

The A. A. A. also announced that a second place trophy would be awarded the runner-up team. The trophies will be placed on display next week in downtown buses, according to Norman Busse, tournament chairman.

day Night before a capacity crowd on the Eagles' floor. Arlington is still in second place in the conference standing but hopes to cop possibly a share of the title when it travels to the McHenry County School Friday, February 14, where it hopes to get revenge on Crystal Lake for that 39-38 setback dealt to the Cards at Heights on December 13.

This was the second meeting between these teams this year, for back on January 10 the Cards outperformed Leyden 36-23.

Arlington got a good lead on the Eagles in the first period as all five regulars tallied a point or more until it had piled up 16, while Leyden, led by Brewer's 5 points, made 7. Allan Stroker and Bill Kleiner sparked the Cardinals' scoring with 6 and 4 points respectively, while Vic Heimsoth hit for 3, Bill Robinson 2, and Tiny Magnus 1.

Heights found their old second quarter jinx working on them again as they were outscored by Leyden for the only time in the game, 12-8, to make the score at intermission 24-19 in the Cards' favor. Bob Suppy and Willard Hogreve were high for Arlington in this period with 4 and 3 points, while Heimsoth accounted for the 8th. The Eagles were led by Hoffman, who connected for 5 points.

Led by Kleiner's 9 points, the Cards once again outscored Leyden in the 3rd quarter, this time by 4 points, 14-10. Allan Stroker scored the other 5 points for Arlington, whereas Brewer topped the Eagles in this period with 7 points. The score read 38-29 at the end of the third quarter.

Arlington notched 13 more tallies in the final quarter, while holding Leyden to only 7. Heimsoth led Heights with 6, Stroker 5, and Robinson 2. Meyers, Magnus, and Hoffmann each hit for a field goal for the Eagles and Bolig dropped in a free throw.

Final score was 51-36 with Arlington the victor. Al Stroker was high point man of the night with 16, while Brewer collected 14 for Leyden.

Jay-vees lose thriller 31-29

The Arlington Junior Varsity gave a scare to the league leading Leyden Jay-Vee quintet when it came within 3 points of a victory but lost 31-29 in a close hard-fought preliminary game. The Eagles had a much harder time defeating the Cards in this contest than they did back on January 10 when they mauled the Cardinals 46-24 in a runaway game. The main reason why Arlington put up such a good fight is because of the zone defense that it used, and which kept Leyden bottled up throughout most of the game.

Leyden led at the end of every period. In the first it built up a 7-2 lead but was outscored in the second 8-6, however, still leading at halftime, 13-10. Arlington took the lead in the middle of the third quarter by 1 point but bad passes again gave it back to Leyden. Heights once again outscored the Eagles in the final period, 9-7.

but it was 3 points shy and Leyden won 31-29.

Preucha was high scorer of the game with 13 points, while Orville Schaeffer collected 11 for the Cards.

Lakers Friday Arlington tramples over Warren, 55-23

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

Arlington Heights had a field day at the Arlington gym Tuesday evening when both squads trampled over the Warren quintets by scores of 55-23 in the varsity tilt and 41-10 in the Jay-Vee game. The limited crowd who witnessed the varsity game saw a one-sided contest from the beginning to the end. The Cardinals, led by Vic Heimsoth's four field goals, built up an early first quarter 17-3 lead. In the next period, the Cards were slowed down considerably, but still outscored Warren as they ran up ten more points while the Blue Devils tallied two field goals to make the half-time score 27-7.

The third quarter was another run-away one for the Cards as each regular hit for at least one field goal until at the end of the period they had piled up 17 points whereas Warren, led by Metcalf's 7 points, tallied 8. With the Cardinals leading by 29 points, the regulars were given a rest and the substitutes took over for most of the final quarter.

Metcalf of Warren had high-scoring honors for the night with 13 points while Heimsoth and Robinson each had 12. This Friday Arlington travels to Crystal Lake in hopes of avenging an earlier defeat and grasping a share of the conference title.

Jayvees have easy victory, 41-10

The Arlington Junior Varsity jumped back into the "victory column" again after losing 3 straight contests, by rolling over a weak Warren team, 41-10.

Twenty players competed in this "maul" as Coach Grace substituted team by team throughout the game. Arlington led 5-2 at the end of the first quarter and 16-3 at the intermission.

Arlington's first string went in for the first time in the third quarter and in less than five minutes of play they had piled up 17 points. The Cardinals' subs failed to score any more in the remaining time and the score read 33-6, going into the final period.

Heights frosh beat Warren

Arlington Heights freshmen cage teams took two more games Monday afternoon of this week, the varsity winning 39-4, and the reserves grabbing a 28-6 victory. Both games, played against Warren, were one-sided affairs to provide only experience to the local yearlings.

Coach Grace alternated three complete teams in the varsity contest, with quarter scores of 8-2, 22-2 and 32-4 being racked up. Gordon Busse again led the scoring with 12 points.

In the reserves' game Arlington forged ahead 9-1 the first period, 15-1 at the half, and 24-3 at the three quarter mark. All of the frosh beyond the first ten were used for this contest. K. Mueller and J. Klowsky each notched six points for the locals. Arlington's freshman record to date is 9-3, with final scores of 8-2, 22-2 and 32-4 being racked up. Gordon Busse again led the scoring with 12 points.

Dogs to have their day at kennel show

Chicago's annual all-breed classic, the International Kennel Club show, is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, March 29 and 30, in the International Amphitheatre.

The same big cash prize list, offered by this Club in the past, is again announced. The schedule consists of $10,000 for first prize, $5,000 for second, and $3,000 for third in every class in which six or more dogs are entered.

Sterling silver trophies will be awarded in each of the variety groups, as well as for best brace and best team in each group; and a Sterling silver trophy is presented for Best in Show.

A special award of the International Kennel Club, which officials of the show plan to repeat, is a $50,000 cash prize for the Best American Bred in Show. This premium will be divided 75 per cent to the breeder, 15 per cent to the owner, and 10 per cent to the handler.

Indoor Field Trials—a popular feature of the International Show—are also on the program. The dogs will be worked under both land and water conditions.

Another innovation of the International show is its Amateur Dog Judging Contest for boys and girls between 14 and 21 years old. Contestants are scored on their placings and their reasons for their placings on four classes of dogs.

Final closing date for entries, under the new A.K.C. regulations, will be Monday, March 17. The show is under Foley management. Its officers are: Arthur G. Leonard, chairman; Mrs. C. Groverman Ellis, president; J. W. Austin, treasurer, and W. E. Ogilvie, secretary.

Stags have crucial game Thursday

The Chicago Stags' march on toward first place in the western sector of the Basketball Association of America, will be resumed at Pittsburgh, Wednesday night, February 12th, when the Chicago squad take on the Pittsburgh Ironmen, for the fourth time this season.

It was against the Ironmen that the Stags hung up a new scoring record, when they defeated the Pittsburgh team 109-85. In other games this season the Chicagoans won both contests, 84-75, and 57-46.

Following the road game in the Smoky City, the Stags return to the Chicago Stadium, where on Thursday night they tackle the high scoring and colorful Providence Steamrollers. Included on Thursday night's program, will be the first appearance of the crack Philadelphia Squad, formerly known as the Philadelphia Hebrews, and one of the outstanding professional teams in the east. Their opponents have not yet been named by the Stag management, who are looking forward to pairing them with another crack team.

Sunday afternoon, February 16 will again find the Stags entertaining the Boston Celtics, coached by Honey Russell and strengthened by the signing of Dutch Garfinkel, the former St. John's star, who joined the squad.

All settled Ela wins championship in Palatine victory

Ela clinched first place in the Northwest Conference for the second year in a row and the third time in the last four years by coming from behind to nip Palatine Tuesday night 37-34 on the Pirates' own court. It was Seaman's three consecutive shots in the space of 30 seconds just past the midpoint of the fourth quarter which turned the game into an Ela victory.

Palatine led most of the first half but fell behind 17-16 as Littin hit three straight from the field. The Pirates forged ahead 28-23 in the third quarter and still had a 31-26 margin with four minutes to play, but Seaman, who accounted for 18 points, got a hot streak and put the game away.

Littin went out on fouls in the third quarter to hurt Ela's chances but they never gave up and Hardenberg, a substitute, gave the team a real lift by scoring twice when the points counted the most.

Dick Kolze scored 16 points for Palatine while holding Grever, Ela center, to three points. Failure of the Pirates to play a ball control game when in the lead in the last quarter accounted partially for their defeat but Ela earned the victory the hard way and played the better ball at the finish.

Hot second quarter wins for frosh-sophs 39-30

The Palatine frosh-soph team clinched third place in the final standings by winning 39-30 to make up for a 42-37 defeat suffered at Ela. In the second quarter the Palatine boys went on a 20 point scoring rampage, using their height to good advantage.

Crystal Lake beats Libertyville

Crystal Lake scored 16 points in each of the last two quarters Friday night to whip Libertyville 55-35 and take their tenth straight conference victory without defeat. The score at halftime was 23-17 for the Tigers but the gap was soon widened to safe proportions.

Big Don Holt took care of most of the scoring chores for the Lakers with a 9-4 record for 22 points. Scully's nine was second high. Bornell, Wildcat guard and a top defensive player, turned scoring leader Friday with 14 points to pace Libertyville. Nemmers scored eight.

Sportsmen open drive for more woodlands

The Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs has made a move to do something about one of our greatest natural resources in the State, the hard wood tree. The plan adopted at the directors' meeting in Champaign is to set up a forest research laboratory at Carbondale and to secure 20 additional foresters who will help farm wood lot owners grow and harvest a continuous crop of timber. The Congress will be petitioned for a Federal appropriation to match a similar appropriation to get the research laboratory and

Jewel Tea report shows best year since '39 record

Annual Report of Jewel Tea company has been released. Retail sales records were established in 1946 by both stores and routes for the third consecutive year. Total sales increased $24,873,518 or 39.3% over 1945. Part of this increase in sales was due to higher retail prices resulting from increased costs. The full increase in costs, however, was not completely reflected in higher prices so gross margins, percentage-wise, have been narrower. Customers continued to buy freely and improved supplies of merchandise were available.

Total earnings for the year—after provision for taxes, depreciation, profit sharing and reserves—increased over the year before and were the highest in the history of the business. Dividends of $2.75 per share paid to common stockholders in 1946 were the highest since 1939 when $3.00 per share was paid.

Total operating expenses in dollars were higher in 1946 but their percentage to sales was reduced. Practically all expense items increased because of rising prices. Payrolls were substantially greater. Payments to and for the benefit of employees of $15,465,305 in 1946 were 30.5% above 1945, while the number of employees, 4,666, increased 5.9%. Elimination of the excess profits tax contributed to the increase in net earnings. Federal taxes on income during 1946 were provided at the rate of 38.3% compared with 32.2% in 1945. It is believed that Federal tax laws and regulations have been interpreted conservatively in estimating the company's liability for Federal taxes on income and that adequate reserves have been provided.

Camp ground program planning committee meets

The first meeting of the program planning committee for the Des Plaines Methodist Camp Ground was held recently at the Methodist Church of Park Ridge. An excellent woman's program it was learned is to be offered the final week of the assembly under the direction of the Woman's Division of Christian Service. Mrs. Oliver R. Aspegren, of Evanston is dean.

It was voted that musical programs enlisting special talent under the direction of Jewel Martin Lovejoy are to be featured, with congregational song fests, also, youth programs, including speakers, special events, and music, will again be directed by the Rev. Allen P. McCaul. Charles Watson was again selected to prepare the Sunday and Wednesday evening programs prior to and following the two-week assembly.

Other features of the summer season at the Camp Ground are to include vacation Church school; supervised play; many sports and recreations; special group events; picnicking, a benefit concert; movies; events of the Woman's Auxiliary and the Men's Brotherhood; and swimming in the outdoor pool supervised by Douglas Cork and a crew of trained life guards.

The Des Plaines Camp Ground is open to the public from May first until October first each year. There are many privately owned cottages on the Ground with additional ones for rent by the season or weekly. Also on the Ground are the Red Gables Hotel, a dining hall, refreshment hall, three tabernacles and other facilities.

Smaller Diplomas

Many schools in the United States have recently introduced smaller diplomas, some enclosed in leather folders. Strictly speaking, the rolled diploma is not a "diploma," as the word derives from the Greek meaning "a paper folded double."

New Kildeer school gets gym donation

Residents of Kildeer Country-side school district, No. 96, north of Arlington Heights, who voted January 18 to float a $100,000 bond issue for a new school building, received a pleasant surprise when it was announced that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perry, land owners, would donate a gymnasium to the proposed structure.

Original plans had called for four class rooms and a gymnasium, but the gift of the Perrys will enable the board of directors to reduce the necessary bond issue "by a substantial amount." It now is planned to place a memorial plaque in the gym in recognition of the gift.

The school board, at its meeting Monday night, voted to proceed with the purchase of a 10 acre site approved by the voters in the January 18 election. The site adjoins the Skycrest Country club (formerly the Kildeer Country club) on McHenry road.

The Kildeer district was formed last fall in a consolidation of four smaller districts—Gridley, Long Grove, Woodlawn and Schultz.

Village trustees fix vacation pay, sick leave for Lombard employees

Fixed rules that henceforth will govern the matter of time off for illness or accident and for vacations of regular full time employees of the village of Lombard, not engaged on an hourly basis, were set up in a resolution adopted by the village board of trustees. The provisions will apply in cases not covered by workmen's compensation or pension laws.

The illness or accident schedule follows.

Wills filed

JOHN ROEHL

The will of John Roehl, who died in Skokie December 8, has been admitted to probate in Chicago. He left an $80,000 estate. He ordered one-third of his estate held in trust for the care of Edward Roehl at a state hospital. One-third goes to his daughter, Erma Hickey of Coldwater, Mich., and the other one-third is left to his foster son, William P. Parmec of Skokie.

SUE FOR DAMAGES

Charles and Arthur Krwanek have sued Iver Lundquist in Superior court for damages in an automobile accident in Arlington Heights July 1. They were riding in Arthur's car on Kirchhoff road at Wilke road and Lundquist was driving his car on Wilke road. It is charged he disregarded traffic signals and ran into the other car. Charles asks $5,000 for injuries and Arthur $500 for damage to his car.

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

One of Ernie Pyle's many narrow escapes occurred at Anzio where he was captured at a waterfront villa. Awakened one night by anti-aircraft he got up from his bed, put on his helmet, and peered out the window. Sixty seconds or so later a heavy German bomb went off alongside the villa, and others followed. Toppling masonry crushed the just-evacuated bed. Ernie's helmet was blown off his head, and he was severely shaken up, but otherwise suffered only a scratch on his right cheek.

ERNE PYLE

Writing about the incident, Ernie said no, he wasn't nervous afterwards, not at all, except that he caught himself combing his hair with a handkerchief.

"An Ernie Pyle Album" by Lee G. Miller is a fine tribute to America's best loved newspaperman. This is a biography told by photographs and brief text. The pictures came from friends, relatives, chance acquaintances as well as from official military files. They show Ernie from his boyhood days in Dana, up until his last dateline on Ie Shima.

Lee Miller, who prepared this volume, was Managing Editor of the Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance and Ernie Pyle's oldest and best friend. From 1935 on, it was he who edited and handled the Pyle column. He was known facetiously as "vice-president in charge of Ernie Pyle."

When the Black Hawk War broke out in 1832, Abraham Lincoln was just beginning his political career. Although he had announced that he was a candidate for election to the State Legislature, he promptly volunteered for service. His experiences as a militia-man often bordered on the comic. All his resourcefulness and adaptability were needed to supplement his scanty knowledge of military tactics. On one occasion, when he was leading his company across a field, twenty abreast, they came to a fence with a narrow gate. Unable to think of the proper command to "turn the company endwise," Lincoln shouted, "Halt! This company will break ranks for two minutes and form again on the other side of that gate!" The movement was successfully executed.—From "The Lincoln Reader," edited by Paul Angle, the current Book-of-the-Month Club selection.

Freak storm stops Glenview pumps

Foresightedness on the part of Village officials saved a bit of hardship for residents of Glenview following the freak electrical storm January 29. The electrical disturbance cut off the power at the water works built nine years ago and no water could be pumped.

But in spite of this mishap residents continued to get water. They got it because a one-pump auxiliary motor which is operated with gas was pressed into service. The auxiliary went into action shortly after 4 p. m. Wednesday afternoon just after the electrical pumps went out of service and provided water for the village until the following day at noon when the regular pumps resumed operating.

Hold 3 Des Plaines youths over to grand jury for robberies

L. Sengstock held all three over to the grand jury. Bond was established at $5,000 on the burglary charge and $2,500 on the larceny charge on each defendant.

To vote on village employee pension plan at Libertyville

Referendums submitting proposals to voters to place Libertyville village and township employees under the state retirement pension act will be held at the spring elections.

Under the state law, a part of the cities and villages act, a retirement pension system for village, town, city and county workers must be approved by a majority of voters. The system is now operating in the county.

The law provides that when the system is put into operation, the local government and the workers share in the cost. It is mandatory for every employee to enroll in the benefit system.

Some of the benefits: retirement at a certain age after a specified period of service, death and sickness benefits and other features.

Law enforcement, not meters rated Lombard parking solution

Enforcement of the village automobile traffic and parking rules was back as the top subject for consideration at the regular meeting of the Lombard village board. It appeared, however, that the members have definitely swung away from the idea that parking meters are particularly suitable for use here or will help solve anything.

Without any formal vote, most of the trustees declared they are now convinced that just plain enforcement of the rules is the thing. But some of the relief for parking congestion must await the passage of a proposed new ordinance limiting parking to one hour, instead of the present two hours, in the principal shopping areas.

First valentine was a heart-shaped rock

No one knows for certain who started St. Valentine's Day, but since love is as old as Eve, the first Valentine in history was probably a heart-shaped rock carved by a pre-historic cave man and tossed with tender solicitude at his "cave girl."

It's doubtful if the rock was tossed on Feb. 14, since the custom of setting aside a definite day in the year for suitors to do their wooing wasn't initiated until the Romans borrowed the idea from the birds.

The Roman oracles, observing that birds began mating on Feb. 14, set aside this day as the Feast of Lupercalia, dedicated to the pastoral god Lupercus and the Goddess of Love, Juno. As part of the ceremonies, Roman youths and maidens drew names from an urn set up in a public square to see who would be their "blind date" for the coming year.

As the feast was dedicated to pagan gods, the Christian church tried to discourage these "love lotteries" and urged that the names of saints be drawn instead. The young people were then supposed to be under the protection of the saint whose name they drew.

This idea didn't prove very popular, however, so the Church compromised and merely changed the name of the day to that of a saint. It is said that Pope Gaudens, in 496 A. D., was the first to dedicate Feb. 14 to St. Valentine, patron saint of lovers.

Valentines hidden in trees
The first record of actual love messages being sent on Feb. 14 goes back to the Middle Ages. These were sent anonymously, and many a cautious beau hid his billet-doux in the hollow of a tree, more than likely so his girl's father couldn't find it.

Those who couldn't write sent symbols and objects denoting undying devotion to their lady fair. These were followed by messages in verse. One of the earliest was written in the 14th century by John Lydgate for Catherine, wife of Henry V. It is not clear whether it was sent to her before or after her marriage, but the question makes for interesting speculation.

Like the Romans, the English also conducted "love lotteries." It was customary for men to wear the name of the girl they drew on their sleeve or bosom for several days and, according to a writer of that period, "this little sport ends in love." This courtship was supposed to last a year, unless—as one sarcastic bachelor quipped—"terminated by the marriage of the parties."

England initiated many interesting customs connected with St. Valentine's Day. One required a girl to write the names of her suitors on bits of paper and roll them in clay. Then she put the clay in water. When the clay dissolved, the first name to rise to the surface was her "Valentine."

In Scotland, on St. Valentine's morning, a lover would surprise his girl friend and blindfold her, saying:

"Guess, and guess truly, lady mine
Who is abroad as thy Valentine?
Whose are the fingers, and
Whose is the vow,
That press on thy forehead,
That bluseth thee now?"

Today the same lover would send the light of his life a "Secret Pal" Valentine, signed "Guess Who?"

Ghost writers
Since a Valentine was usually considered the equivalent of a proposal of marriage, would-be Romeos had to be careful what they said in their verses. This problem was solved in 1797, when "Valentine Writers" appeared in the bookstalls throughout England. These provided ready-made verses which a young man could "lift" and write on his Valentine.

The idea became so popular "Tradesmen's Valentine Writers" began appearing. These contained verses appropriate for practically all occupations, including coachmakers, weavers, tanners and cheese-mongers. There were also "answers" for a girl to use in reply to a Valentine.

Valentines reach U. S.

America discovered the Valentine custom along about the time of the Revolutionary War. For years Valentines were handmade, since it wasn't until about 1840 that anyone conceived the idea of manufacturing them.

This idea is credited to Miss Esther Howland, daughter of a Worcester, Mass., stationer, and a student at Mt. Holyoke College. She is said to have found an English Valentine in her father's store and copied it. Shortly afterward, John McLaughlin, a Scotsman who made Valentines in New York City as a sideline to his book and printing business, introduced "comic" Valentines.

By the 1890's sentimental Valentines were best-sellers. Many were done in three dimensions, with angels and cupids popping out of their centers. One Valentine had a packet at one corner marked: "What does it contain?" Inside was a wedding ring.

Women like humor

Unlike the "comic" Valentines of other years which often bruised the recipients' feelings, today's humorous Valentines provide some good-natured kidding. Dealers report that women especially go in for this type of card. Men, it seems, prefer sentimental Valentines.

This year it is estimated that 300 million Valentines will find their way into the mails around Feb. 14, an indication that St. Valentine's Day is assuming the proportions of a national holiday. Sentiment, apparently, is still flourishing in this streamlined world of ours.

Navy to present air show at Glenview

February 16 has been designated by the navy as "Operations Reunion" day at the Naval Air Station, Glenview. This program is being sponsored by the Naval Air Reserve Training Command and will afford servicemen an opportunity to renew acquaintances with former buddies, establish new friends, and to see the latest Naval Aircraft, technical devices, engines, new Link Trainers and modern operation techniques.

A full day of recreation and entertainment has been scheduled, including free movies, airplane rides, gate prizes and a beauty contest. Also, appearances by well known radio and screen personalities are scheduled. The program will commence at 12 p. m. The general public is invited, as well as all former servicemen.

Washington Letter

From the office of:
THOMAS L. OWENS, M. C.

The first month of Congressional action closed with the passage of House Resolution 1030, which extended the present excise taxes for an indefinite period beyond June 30, 1947, at which the present tax would otherwise expire. The vote was 373 for the resolution to 35 against the measure. While it was quite apparent that the vast majority of the House members felt that there were certain inequities in the present tax, they were almost unanimous in their agreement that steps should be taken rapidly to clarify the confusion which had arisen with the President's declaration officially ending hostilities.

Our thought of last week, that the Committee on the Judiciary might take over the "portal to portal" issue because of the fact that the Gwynn bill, which would limit the court's jurisdiction of that matter, had been referred to that committee, has become a fact.

Among the most valuable of the free pamphlet services which are now being prepared and distributed by the Federal departments are the following:

To make scientific study of fire losses

Faced with an average annual toll of 10,000 deaths from fire, together with property loss which exceeded $580,000,000 in 1946, President Truman is sponsoring a nation-wide effort to cope with the fire menace.

The President's Conference on Fire Prevention is now past the formative stage and a volunteer staff is at work preparing for the meeting, which will be held May 6-8 in the Departmental Auditorium in Washington.

Representatives of municipal and State governments, Federal agencies, and of non-official organizations with a basic interest in fire prevention have been organized into a coordinating committee to draft an agenda for the Conference and to appoint committees which will prepare recommendations to be submitted to the Conference as a whole.

The Conference will be in session for three days during which, it is hoped, a coordinated program will be formulated that will revitalize the national effort to reduce death and financial loss from fire.

It costs 'dough' to run state

Cash disbursements by the State of Illinois for all purposes during the month of January totaled $39,922,930.02, and required the writing of 275,578 warrants, final compilations in the office of Arthur C. Lueder, Auditor of Public Accounts, showed today. All disbursements by the State of Illinois are made only by warrants drawn by the Auditor of Public Accounts. A summary of these expenditures are as follows:

Operating expenses of the executive, judicial and legislative branches of the State, and of all State departments, board and commissions; including the University of Illinois and post war projects were $13,165,527.13.

Disbursements for the maintenance, constructions, policing of highways, and for expenses during the month of January totaled $24,757,402.89.

Gas tax refunds to those who purchased gasoline for other than highway transportation purposes amounted to $686,303.60 and required 18,000 warrants.

Auditor Lueder said that 132,174 warrants amounting to $5,147,725.00 were issued to those receiving old age pensions; 30,412 warrants amounting to $1,923,174.00 were issued to those receiving State assistance under the Aid to Dependent Children Act, and 6,924 warrants amounting to $263,928.00 to those receiving State assistance under the Blind Assistance Act.

In 1917-18 it was doughnuts with Java, and hungry doughboys instead of mustachioed soldiers, but

To test new automatic opening parachutes

Cook Research Laboratories announced today they will soon make a series of experimental parachute drops to test their development of a new automatic opening device and parachute ground release mechanism designed for use by the Army Air Corps.

The drops will be made with the approval of the Commanding Officer of Glenview Naval Air Station, over the Glenview auxiliary airfield just south of Libertyville. Civilians in that area will have a box seat for the show, which will start some time around the middle of February and continue into June.

Local authorities are being notified of the experiments, radio announcements are being made and all possible means of informing the general public are being taken in order to prevent any rumors of sabotage or "Men from Mars."

Special Cook Laboratory technicians will be on the ground ready to retrieve the parachutes. Cook officials say that there is no danger of property damage and that the test chutes will be easily recognizable. Two types will be used: a colored cargo chute of red, green or yellow, and a personnel chute which is white. The Cook plane making the drops, an AT-11 Beechcraft No. 276, will operate from the Orchard Lane airport.

If these experiments are a success, Cook Laboratories report, the Air Corps will have a safe means of lowering injured or unconscious personnel to descend from almost any altitude should this type of air evacuation ever become necessary. Evacuation of injured from a flying plane was attempted during the war but only in cases of extreme emergency because of the great danger that the chute might become entangled in the tail assembly or might drag the patient once he ditched the ground.

These dangers are eliminated by an automatic method of opening the chute at either a predetermined altitude or after a desired time interval and by a means of releasing the chute upon contact with the ground.

The two mechanisms would have additional value in connection with the Army's announced development of a seat-jettisoning device which will catapult a pilot away from his disabled plane. Cook Research Laboratories cooperated on this project also. A pilot, subjected to terrific forces when catapulted from a plane, would "black out" and it would be necessary for his chute to open automatically.

When hitting the ground he might still be unconscious but he would have the protection of the ground release mechanism.

FIRST NYLON LINE

Certain caterpillars, when moving to a feeding place, proceed in line with the head of each touching the tail of the caterpillar in front, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. They are known as processionary caterpillars or army worms.

When these neurotic animals were treated by electric currents to the brain, they, too, seemed to forget the conflicting experiences which had produced their neuroses, and went back to earlier and simpler habits of conduct in the feeding situation. But all cats, normal and neurotic, showed some impairment in intelligence after the electroshock treatment.

With these observations as a basis, Dr. Masserman made other cats neurotic by first training them to secure food, but then exposing them to harmless blasts of air as deterrents to the expected reward. The cats, torn between opposing impulses, developed neurotic symptoms. That is, they refused all food, became kittenish or neurotically paralyzed, and showed other abnormalities of behavior much like those in human neuroses.

Make plans for March flower show

Representatives of garden and women's clubs in the middle west met with the National Flower Show committee last week to make final plans for the 24th National Flower and Garden Show, to be held at the International Amphitheatre in Chicago the week of March 16 to 23.

The huge first floor of the Amphitheatre will be given over to large garden displays, and the second floor will feature the amateur section and arrangements of interesting flowers and plants.

Highlighting the large display gardens in the main arena will be a terraced rainbow fountain garden displayed by Clavey's Ravinia Nurseries. This spectacular display will combine terraced hedges, flower plantings, a fountain and colored lights to give the effect of a kaleidoscopic dream garden.

Other features in the main arena will include a Korean garden by Billy Baxter, famous landscape architect from Detroit, and a spring garden filled with more than 15,000 tulips, hyacinths and narcissi which have been sent to the show by the Holland bulb growers.

A Ninth Century monastery garden, which will be patterned after St. Gaul's monastery in France, will interpret the cloistered beauties of an old world garden of the middle ages. Another historical feature will be a Mid-Victorian garden which espaliereed trees and curlicue beds of flowers. A California garden of today, and a new horizon garden of tomorrow, will embody new lines, new plant materials and new color schemes.

The show, which will be the first since 1942, will be a civic venture in which hundreds of clubs and civic societies in and around Chicago will take an active part. Show sponsors promise that it will be the most spectacular exhibition of its kind ever held.

Drive to Michigan for new Buicks

To supply the ever increasing demand for Buicks for immediate delivery caused our local dealers, Wm. Busse and Son, Mt. Prospect, to go after the cars and run them in via direct route. Prompt service is their motto.

After looking over the Buick factory at Flint, Mich., Thursday afternoon they left there at noon that day with ten cars and arrived here at 2:30 p. m. Sunday safe and happy though a little weary.

Averaging 4 feet of snow was no obstacle and no trouble experienced to keep the ten cars in line. They will leave here again by rail this Thursday evening to get six more machines by the same route.

Soil good for raising carnations

N. F. Mersch and his father are congratulating themselves on the fact that they located in Palatine. Perhaps it was only accidental, but they now believe that the Palatine soil as found on their land is the greatest soil for carnations and roses that can be secured anywhere in this part of the U. S. Mr. Mersch has also been able to attain a white ivory carnation that is exciting the envy of all other florists.

Valentine weighs 24 pounds

Postmaster Godknecht, Palatine, says that he handled all kinds of valentines this year, but he bets the most welcome of them all was one weighing 24 pounds that was shipped by a Palatine man to his son and wife in the western part of the state. It was a case of canned fruit. The papers say that canned fruit will be very high this year and rival the high cost of eggs and flour.

JUST AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:

This being Boy Scout Week, I've decided to devote my letter to an article about the Scout Movement written by the Honorable Thomas E. Dewey, Governor of New York.

"The invention of Scouting was inevitable. The more civilized the world has become, the more it has needed something like the Boy Scout Movement. Yet Scouting owes its growth to more than one accidental circumstance. For instance: General Baden-Powell wrote his 'Aids to Scouting' as a manual for soldiers. He was the greatest authority on Scouting in the British Army. Had he grown up on our own frontier, Baden-Powell would have become a 'Mountain Man' of the calibre of Kit Carson, Daniel Boone, and Sam Bridger.

Baden-Powell found to his astonishment that the manual he had written for soldiers was immensely popular with British youngsters. He learned that the skill, excitement and self-reliance required in Scouting appealed as much to a boy as to a grown soldier. That led him inevitably to his big idea. He knew that he was not the first in this field; he inquired into Dan Beard's 'Sons of Daniel Boone' and Ernest Thompson Seton's 'Woodcraft Indians.' He studied their ideas and those of other youth movements and began his great work. Boy Scouting rapidly took hold in England, and spread around the world.

We think, by contrast, of the way in which totalitarian governments degraded and misused the idea of organizing a nation's youngsters. We think of the practices of the Hitler Youth movement, young boys trained in military and patriotism to the fullest extent, and taught that all they were learning was a preparation for a future of killing and destruction. Young boys taught to suspect and spy upon their own parents and friends; trained in the technique of the informer. What a difference between slave states and the idealism of the Boy Scouts in free countries.

We have found that we do not have to train our youngsters in brutality and espionage to make them play an invaluable part in defending their country when it becomes necessary — and God willing, it may never be necessary again. In the last war, hundreds of Scouts served in the armed forces of the nation, and younger Scouts were a most useful factor on the home front. They were able to use their enormous energy and patriotism to the fullest extent without ever departing one bit from the Scout Law, even in spirit.

Now as we look to the work of peace, we think of the great tasks ahead of us in which the Scouts can and will do so much. Conservation is one important field. Every healthy boy likes the things and pastimes of outdoors. He loves to get close to the soil. (Sometimes his mother thinks he never wants to get away from it, not even by way of the scrubbing brush.) But a love for the soil is one of the cleanest things that can happen to a boy. A Boy Scout

With love, Mary

Opera house at Schaumburg

It may be news to somebody that Schaumburg Center has an opera house. Just before the holidays the local Parent-Teachers association wanted to hold an entertainment and the stage committee, Arthur Kreuger and Edwin Menke, got very busy. They put the situation up to Herman Fenz and he responded in fine shape. The result was a stage was built in an adjoining room, the dividing wall moved and the whole thing made attractive and useful. This is only another proof of what people can do when they mean business.

Arlington farmers elect officers

At the Arlington Heights Farmers Institute last Saturday a permanent organization was formed and the following officers were elected: president, Wm. Melzer; secretary, Wm. E. Meier; treasurer, Geo. F. Meyer; standing committee, O. R. Zoll, Herman Kehe, Fred Henjes. This will insure Arlington Heights of a Farmer Institute every year. A collection was taken to help defray the expenses of this year's meeting. A play will probably be given in the near future to clear the balance and prepare for next year.

Shower bride-to-be at Roselle

A miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Miss Esther Nichols at the home of Mrs. R. Baker Saturday afternoon. Among those present were Misses Elsie and Sylvia DeWitt, Dorothy Achard, Clara and Edna Bortner, Anna and Elsie Sauerman, Adelia and Ramona Hattendorf, and Violet Sumner. Miss Nichols is soon to become a bride.

Tales of the STREET

BY T. C. HART

FEBRUARY

When February's sun shines cold
There comes a day when in the air
The wings of winter slow unfold
And show the golden summer there.
Well, this is February and the sun has been shining plenty cold this month so that about everyone is willing for those wings to unfold and show some of those summer signs.

WEATHER

The weather has been the chief topic of conversation lately with a real winter shut down following a mild January and ground hog day.

"Where are all those ember day prophets of yours that were predicting a mild February?" We met our ember day consultant, Herman Miller, on the street one morning and asked him what had gone wrong with the ember day forecasts.

"Too mild in January," said Herman. "We had to make up for that balmy weather." Herman says the temperature average for February according to the ember days should be 39 degrees.

Well, if it's going to average 39 degrees this month there will surely have to be a lot of warm weather from here on out, but this is a changeable year and most anything might happen. The weather bureau forecaster in Washington who predicted at the start of the year that this was going to be a tough freakish year with a lot of unusual weather conditions has most certainly got off to a great start with that forecast.

CLIMATE

This thing called climate that has everyone scurrying around trying to find the right sort of weather is a great thing.

California Chambers of Commerce claim the most wonderful climate on earth, yet on a recent trip to Florida Mrs. LeLonde met a doctor and his wife from California who had come to Florida for the climate.

Mayor DePue has been basking in the Florida sunshine all winter down there on the Indian river where it had been unusually warm this winter. Then along comes a norther that sends the temperature down below freezing and friend Bill shivered for a couple of days like the rest of us.

When it does get cold in those damp warm climates it really gets cold. One winter many years ago we were south of Jacksonville, Fla., about this time of year. We came in from the country one nice balmy afternoon with the temperature around 70°. A storm flag was flying over the post office when we reached town and a friend told us that was a storm warning and that cold weather was coming.

The next morning when we went down town there were ice cubes on the fountain in the village square, and when we walked out on the bridge over the St. Johns river there were snow flakes in the air. We felt as cold as if we were out on the ice fields at Twin Lakes, Wis.—and that was Florida.

Got a nice pretty card the other day from Geo. Reinhold who is wintering at Miami, Florida. It was the picture of the palms and flower bordered gateway to Hialeah Park, and it learned about those things, learns to distinguish them and their uses and beauties as many of us grown-ups unfortunately do not. One result has been that Boy Scouts have planted millions of trees that probably never would have existed otherwise. They have developed a consciousness of what our forests and streams mean. They appreciate our parks, our woodlands and mountain areas, and know how to use them.

The more civilized a community is — and by that I mean the more it has of the implements of modern science — the more its young people need the training and influence of Boy Scouting. The Boy Scout Movement must be strengthened and expanded. Its appeal is so strong that in our two states in Region Two, 50,000 volunteers are giving their time as leaders in the Scout Movement. If our communities were asked to pay for that service at only three dollars a night, it would amount to more than five million dollars a year. But these men enjoy their work and they ask nothing. One thing we need to do is to spread information so that more men of similar calibre can enroll in this grand service to the future manhood of America. The Boy Scout Movement is a factor for good citizenship and good government, not only to parents, but also to the elements of the entire community to business, industry, commerce, and churches.

There is a great call to service ahead in the work of Scouting. It is a call to every element of our community to take personal part or to give so that others can take personal part. This is the healthiest kind of Movement for the youth of today and our men of tomorrow. Let us all support it in its great work for the youth of America.

With love, Mary

surely looked like the tropics. Then we picked up a newspaper and read about a cold wave hitting Miami and the water pipes were freezing and schools were closed because of the cold. We thought of Warren Kohler who was that day starting for a Florida vacation.

Was talking to a friend the other day who told about a friend of his who went from Minnesota to Arizona for some warm weather on account of his wife's health. He wrote back to his friend. "It's no warmer here than it was in Minnesota, going on to California."

California seems to be missing these wintry blasts from Canada that we have been getting and it's been up in the 80's along the California coast. Earl Chalberg of the McIntosh Co. writes Roy LaLonde that California is a great place and tells him to forget about Florida. We got a card from Morris Littlejohn, who with Mrs. Littlejohn, was motoring to California. Morris says if they get through Arkansas he thinks they'll make it O. K.

Yes, this climate business is a great and variable thing with people dashing all about the country in search of it while all the while we have plenty of climate right here at home—and all kinds of it at that.

THEY'RE STILL AT IT

Despite the fact that they have been repeatedly warned against the practice and despite the fact that they have promised to correct the matter the C&N.W. Ry. keeps right on with their trains passing at the station. Recently on two days straight the 9:35 Chicago bound train pulled into the station while a north bound train was standing there.

On one cold icy morning a lady, blocked from getting over to the depot, climbed across the platform of the standing train and ran to catch the 9:35. She passed in front of the incoming engine by maybe 20 feet. It was an icy morning; if she had slipped and fallen in front of that engine nothing could have saved her. There would have been another crossing killing in Palatine and as usual the railroad would have done nothing.

As we have repeatedly mentioned there is a village ordinance against trains passing in the station. Warnings and promises seem to mean nothing. Maybe if the police would haul the engineer of the offending train out of his cab and lock him up in the hoosegow it might wake up the railroad.

Continued refusal on the part of the village authorities to see that the law is enforced is making them equally guilty with the offending railroad in case of a serious accident.

LONE CARDINAL

During those cold blustery nights a female cardinal has been making her night quarters in some vines just outside the kitchen window where she has been protected some from the icy blasts and got some heat from the room.

The lady cardinal puts in her appearance just as dusk comes and is gone shortly after daylight in the morning. We don't see anything of her during the day but as night begins to settle down she sails in to bed down for the night.

NEXT WORLD

Bud Nangle gave a shiver during the zero cold and gave for the opinion that the next world was probably the best. It seems that the Wednesday night of the big storm Bud was on his way home from Arlington Heights late at night and when he reached Chicago Ave. and the N. W. highway found himself blocked from the corner by some stalled trucks.

Bud couldn't get through or around the jam so had to drive back to Arlington Heights, go out to Rand Road, come up to Kitty Korner, and come into Palatine from the north. After all that experience in that roaring blizzard Bud figured that the next world would surely have it on this one.

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL

In the last two issues of the Palatine Enterprise, there have appeared articles telling what the school board has been planning about completing this consolidation. This consolidation was approved about ten months ago. At that time, the public believed that action would be taken at once to give the district a new, modern, fully equipped building and that the rural buildings would be used for only a year. At that time, the public believed that action would be taken at once to give the district a new, modern, fully equipped building and that the rural buildings would be used for only a year.

The consolidation movement was started in this community in 1941, but it lost when put to a vote. The movement was kept alive and finally in the latter part of 1944 meetings of all the board members of the various school districts in the township were started. They realized that something must be done in most of the districts there was a serious educational problem.

Everyone is familiar with the method of selecting the present board. No opposition was presented because unity of action was the most important thing at that time. Some of those on the present board were actually opposed to consolidation in 1941.

The board should have taken the public into their confidence and then they would, no doubt, have been a lot further along in making this consolidation complete. While the board has absolute say while they are in office, there is an election for new board members every year. The public has the final say on all matters and they could give the board much good advice.

The slow action of the board will cost the public considerable money, because of the rise in price of material and construction. However as it will be several years before there is any considerable decrease in costs, the building, etc., should go ahead with full speed. If this is not done, some of the most desirable territory, as far as tax revenue is concerned, may be lost.

The people of Inverness have already filed a petition with the County Superintendent of schools asking that they be annexed to the Barrington district. If they do that, it will mean more territory in that section will also go. Let us not have another case as we did when Arlington Heights high school district took the race track away from the Palatine high school district. A few months ago some of the school board members of District 15 were ready to resign and let the consolidation go back to the original districts. If they do that, they will mean more territory in that section will also go.

The articles referred to in the first paragraph mention that the board is curtailing all current expenses, eliminating all so called

ALL DAY PARKING

Will the Palatine police department please explain why commuters are allowed to park their cars for the whole day on Palatine's two business blocks? There are signs all over town reading "parking 90 min." This doesn't seem to mean a thing, so car owners park wherever they wish for as long as they want to.

Why not take all the signs down completely and let all of us enjoy the privileges accorded a certain group? No matter what time of the day you drive into Palatine there are never any parking spaces available. The two busy streets are packed and we have to park two blocks away and walk back for our shopping.

The day of the snow storm last week I was waiting to pick up my family from the 5:40 train and I counted five cars parked across from our bank covered with snow from front to back. It had not snowed during the night before so these cars had been there all day. Before I drove away I saw three commuters get off the 5:40 train, come over and start cleaning the snow from these cars. The other two were still there when I left town.

Our efficient police force must walk past these cars at least a dozen times a day and yet they do nothing about it.

A resident

ed luxury items and the building will be confined to actual necessities for school operation. These terms should be fully defined by the Board. If these cuts are being made because the law will not permit any larger bond issue, then what will be done in a few years or more when families are living in those houses which are being built now and those which will be built in the next few years?

It must be realized that a good school system is the cause for the result of that growth. The school board must realize that schools are a business just the same as any industrial company and that when it is necessary to borrow money to make an investment which will eventually pay big dividends that they must take the "gamble" and spend the stockholders money, which in this case is the taxes received from the public. They should not spend as little money as possible, but as much as they are allowed to do.

In looking at the bond issue, it should not be looked at as a whole, but how little it affects each tax payer. In 1941, the part of a $50.00 tax bill going to the elementary school amounted to about $1.00 or $1.25 per month. Who is not willing to spend more than that for the education of our children?

The board can get the reaction of the public a lot better by having a public meeting rather than submitting their ideas through the press or by brochure.

Harry E. Smith
Palatine.

Takes issue with liquor 'facts'

A statement by T. C. Hart in last week's issue of the Palatine Enterprise, under the column "Tales of The Street," caused me to gasp, to look again, then to re-read carefully that part of his column, entitled "Statistics."

The startling statement comes in the last paragraph where he says, "The better the men who sell liquor, the less harm done by it." I might have left unchallenged all the previous part of the article, except for this thoughtless statement. Surely he did not mean it, or maybe he meant something else? The best man in the world, selling liquor, could not soften the effects of the product on those who drink it.

However, the rest of the article aroused my interest because of its social implications. Mr. Hart infers that repeal of prohibition solved the liquor problem, and refers to recent figures of the national safety council "to prove that deaths from vehicle accidents had dropped since the repeal of prohibition." I wonder if these figures had any connection with war-time gasoline restrictions, post-war automobile production, and a war-time national speed limit of thirty-five miles an hour?

What should be done with the following statistics? The Federal Bureau of Investigation report on arrests for all age groups for a period from January 1 to December 31, 1945, shows that out of a total of 543,853 arrests for all causes in all age groups, 124,914 were for drunkenness, 20,553 for driving while intoxicated, and 6,700 for violation of liquor laws. This means that 153,167 persons of the total arrested—or about one-fourth were victims of the liquor traffic.

means that at fifty years of age and over, the social drinker has lost control of himself to the extent that he constitutes fifty-percent of all law violators! Surely, any kind of prohibition (either national or local) would be for the protection of this group!

And while I am on the subject of statistics, let me report the Yale Summer School of Alcohol Studies, 1946, which show that there were 750,000 alcoholics in the country then, and that 40,000 more were graduating into this class every year from the "light" or "social" drinking group. The plain truth is that science has no way whatsoever of predicting who, among the casual or social drinkers, may become an alcoholic. It could be you! Every light drinker who became an alcoholic imagined himself to be the exception.

It is well to remember that statistics can be made to say anything we want to say. In the case of the U. S. Bureau of Census figures, cited by Mr. Hart, we should be aware that this report includes the war period when families were largely separated or without a resident male head. Naturally there would be a decrease in homicides. Also, when alcohol has caused cirrhosis of the liver, does the doctor indicate alcoholism or cirrhosis of the liver as the cause of death? Which would bring him less criticism from the immediate family?

Alcohol, like any other narcotic, is dangerous to society, and should be prohibited except upon the prescription of a physician. William Harry Fetz, Pastor
First Methodist Church,
Palatine

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL

We, who have worked for better educational opportunities for our children, read last week's report by the school directors with a feeling of despair and disgust.

They promise us "only the barest necessities." Well, that is exactly what we've had out here in the past—four walls and a teacher.

But that's not why we voted for a consolidation of the districts. We looked forward to something better than what we've been used to. We want our children to be equipped to compete with children whose school officials are not so economy-minded.

A whole year has gone by since the district was formed. What has been accomplished in that time by the directors who were so eager to get on the board? It's been a year of stalling and putting off and cutting off.

Every week of delay sends the price of building higher. So, what do the directors do? Cut off something to bring the price down. That's the answer to everything... get something cheaper. These same men when buying a new car do not content themselves with "barest necessities." No they demand and are perfectly willing to pay for such "frills" as windshield wipers, gasoline gauge, thermometer, defroster, etc. And yet, these same car gadgets were considered "frills" at one time. No one considers them frills today. They are taken for granted.

Well why isn't it the same with education? Maybe 50 years ago gym, art and music were considered frills. Today they are not. And today, science should be provided for grade children. This means equipment, room, etc.

Is this the year 1947 or 1990? Seventeen years ago we had opportunities in seventh grade that our children do not have today. We were taught science, cooking and manual training in the fifth grade. Our children should be entitled to a better education in 1947, than we had in 1930.

People who are interested in something better for their children than what we are being offered, are organizing for action. Watch for notices.

Illinois Bankers winter conference to feature soil conservation

The absolute necessity of conserving the greatest single source of wealth of the state—the fertility of the soil—will be the theme of the afternoon session of the Mid-Winter Conference of the Illinois Bankers Association, Friday, February 21, at the Palmer House, Chicago.

According to Barney J. Ghigli-lieri, President of the Illinois
Bankers Association, if the state is to maintain its position as a leader in agriculture, the farmers must render more than lip-service to soil conservation.
There are many farmers throughout the state who are fully aware of the necessity of crop rotation, replacement of the essential minerals that different crops take out of the soil, and the seriousness of top soil erosion. Most of these farmers are following sound soil conservation practices. The main problem is getting the other farmers, who either do not know how or do not care about maintaining their farms at peak fertility, to understand and to follow approved soil conservation practices.

As farmers are able to acquire more machinery, the farms will become more mechanized and more of the people on the farms will turn to the cities for the better paid jobs in industry. As this evolution progresses, it becomes more important each year that the fertility of the soil be maintained and improved. If the great rivers and their tributaries throughout the country continue to carry the top soil with the essential minerals from the land to the sea at the rate they have in the past, it is not inconceivable that the people of the future will have to turn to the sea and marine culture for the sustenance of life.

All of the activities of the Association's Committee on Agriculture during the past year will culminate in the mid-winter meeting in Chicago on February 21st. Representatives of industry allied to agriculture have been invited to attend and to participate in an open forum discussion. At this meeting an effort will be made to organize an overall industry committee that will assume the responsibility of seeing that every farmer in the state is made aware of the dollar and cents value of
following sound soil conservation and erosion prevention practices, and is urged to full cooperation.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Thresa is a little curly haired girl of five, with brown eyes deep and serious, and a little dimpled smile that is trusting and sweet.

The other day she was walking along beside me while I delivered the mail in her block.
She kept up a continuous conversation about her Uncle Ned, who lives in Nebraska, who was coming to visit her and bring her a present.

"But suppose Uncle Ned is poor now, and cannot afford to come," I suggested. "Or perhaps he won't have the money to bring you a present."
Thresa looked at me thoughtfully for a long moment, then placed one chubby arm around my neck and gazed at me with a mixture of mild pity and shocked surprise.

"You don't know MY Uncle Ned," she said confidently. "He always does what he says he will do—and I love him!"

Faith—the faith of a little child in one whom she loves—is one of the most precious things I know of. All too soon that abiding, unwavering faith must trust that people can not be trusted as fully as they should be. Too many things enter into the forming of a personality. Selfishness and greed often uproot the seeds of kindness and faith inspiring virtues, and leave us warped and twisted in our outlook on life, and cynical in our attitude toward others and our faith in them.

Yet of all things in the world people desire, perhaps the faith of a little Thresa is among the most urgent. The first wish of almost every person on meeting a new acquaintance is to have faith in him or her. But the voice of past experience, the memory of many times that one has tried and found his new friends wanting, prompt us to accept others for friends only after our good judgment gives us the go ahead sign—they are under suspicion until they have proved themselves worthy of our love and respect.

The ability to win faith and confidence has always been a very necessary attribute of the successful man or woman in social and in business life. Men succeed or fail in accordance with their ability to inspire faith. Thresa had faith in Uncle Ned because "he always does what he says he will do." That is the secret—dependability and sympathy for others are the basic faith inspiring ingredients.

ROA plans mock air show Sunday

The Reserve Officers Association of the United States is again sponsoring the period between February 12 to 22 as National Security Week. President Truman has issued a proclamation urging all citizens to observe National Security Week.

In keeping with this stated purpose, the Cook County Chapter of the ROA has planned many special events for the observance of National Security Week in the Chicago area. There will be special radio programs throughout the period, downtown displays of the V-2 rocket, the German Buzz Bomb, the Jap Baka Bomb, and store window displays. The ROA will hold a military ball at the Knickerbocker hotel on February 14. Also, the ROA has arranged with the Army Air Forces for a special free air show and mock air battle at Douglas Airport, La Grange and Higgins roads, northwest of Chicago, on Sunday, February 16, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. A cafeteria will be available for the noon meal.

Included in the displays will be the new jet plane, the Northrup Flying Wing, a B-29, captured German and Japanese aircraft, and American anti-aircraft guns. At the ceremonies the first Reserve Air Army Unit in Cook County will be officially activated. Hal Totten, radio announcer, will be on hand to explain the events. In case of inclement weather the show will be held indoors.

61,160 veterans in Illinois colleges

A census of Illinois' institutions of higher learning has revealed that over fifty-three per cent of the total enrollment are veterans of World War II.

A survey conducted by the Student Advancement section of the Illinois Veterans Commission, the first since the end of the war, disclosed that 116,609 students have enrolled in the state's universities, colleges and undergraduate schools. Of this figure, 61,160 are veterans. The majority of them are using their GI Bill of Rights benefits.

The survey revealed that vacancies still exist at many schools throughout the state. The Galesburg U. of I. branch has accommodations for about 1,200 more students.

Veterans interested in entering college can contact Service Officer Melvin L. Kehe whose office is located at 210 N. Dunton street, Arlington Heights, for information concerning school vacancies.

Questions on G. I. bill

Question: I am a veteran, living in Chicago. I have bought a small farm in Indiana and expect to start putting in crops in the spring. I will probably not make a living from it until harvest. Am I eligible for Readjustment Allowance for self-employed persons? If so, would I make application in Illinois, where I live, or in Indiana where my farm is located?

Answer: If, when you are working your farm, you actually live on it, and you fail to make $100.00 per month, you may be eligible for Readjustment Allowance under the self-employed persons clause of Public Law no. 346. You would then become a resident of the community in which your farm is located and would file your claims at the nearest State Employment Office in Indiana.

Question: I am a native of Scotland and lived in the United States for 3 years before the war. I served 5 years in the RAF and returned to this country after my discharge. I now have my citizen ship papers. Am I eligible for benefits under the G. I. Bill?

Answer: To be eligible for benefits under Public Law no. 346, you must have been a citizen of the United States at the time of induction into the armed forces of allied country, and at the present time, receiving no benefits from the country in which you served.

Question: I was discharged from the Army last July serving 3½ years. I accepted a job in private industry and while on the job, I met with an accident causing amputation of my right hand at the wrist. I am now handicapped and unable to continue working at my former occupation. Am I entitled to Vocational Rehabilitation Training under Public Law no. 16?

Answer: No. To be entitled to Vocational Rehabilitation Training under Public Law no. 16, the person must have a disability incurred in or aggravated by active service in the armed forces for which he is receiving disability pension. However, he may be eligible for training under Public Law no. 113 through the Division of Rehabilitation, State of Illinois with offices in Springfield and Chicago.

DoALL company expands to new Des Plaines plant

Climaxing a phenomenal growth in the machine tool field, the DoALL Company has announced that the general sales offices and direct mail department, previously located in Minneapolis for over fifteen years, have been transferred to the enlarged plant at 254 North Laurel ave., Des Plaines. Now together, under one roof, will be sales, sales promotion, advertising, public relations, direct mail, photographic, billing, and accounting departments. The DoALL International Company, the company's export sales division that accounts for as much as 30 per cent of the total DoALL sales volume and distributes in 56 foreign countries, has also been moved to the enlarged plant.

At the same time, the Engineering Department, headed by Chief Engineer, W. T. Anderson, 761 Lee st., moved from 254 N. Laurel ave. to the company's other Des Plaines plant at 1201 Thacker st.

A number of executives and key personnel were transferred from Minneapolis in the move. Several have already purchased homes in this locality and expect to take an active interest in civic affairs. Included in this group are: L. R. Rothenberger, General Sales Manager, Buffalo Grove Road, Arlington Heights; Roger Lee, Asst. Sales Manager, 526 South Evergreen, Arlington Heights; Harold Weatherhead, Order Department Manager, 1653 Stockton, Des Plaines.

In addition to its world-wide known DoALL contour sawing machine, band filing machines, surface grinders and precision inspection instruments, new products such as lathes, profilers, jig saws, radius shaping and milling machines, hand screw machines, grinding wheels, files, etc., are now included.

The story of the Des Plaines plant development within the amazing short period of only eight years proves that success today, under highly competitive conditions, is just as possible as ever before during pioneer days.

"Such fast and successful development," Wilkie contends, "is just as much to the credit of satisfied, conscientious helpers as it is to guidance." Reasons for employee satisfaction are the liberal profit-sharing and employee-benefit policies of the company.

Civil service examinations

Mr. Joseph A. Connor, Regional Director of the Seventh U. S. Civil Service Region, today announced an examination for Clerk. He said, "Those who pass this written test will be given an opportunity to fill many clerical positions in the Federal service in Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, or in Washington, D. C."

The entrance salaries will range from $1754 to $2394 a year, and the positions involve accounting, payroll, personnel, property and supply, correspondence, filing, and many other fields of work.

Applications must be filed with the Seventh U. S. Civil Service Region, New Post Office Building, Chicago 7, not later than February 13, 1947.

Applications forms and further information may be obtained from the above-mentioned office, and the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, in any first- or second-class post office.

Gives info' on vets' death benefits

Two outstanding benefits due dependents of deceased servicemen are National Service Life Insurance and pension payments.

Provisions of these benefits were reiterated by the Commission in connection with its drive to contact the next of kin of the some 22,000 Illinoisans who died during World War II.

The beneficiary of a serviceman's life insurance will be paid monthly payments based on the age of the beneficiary at the time of the insured's death. These payments are automatic.

Widows and children of servicemen whose death was due to active military duty are also eligible for a monthly pension upon application, the widow's pension being terminated upon remarriage. Dependent parents also may be eligible for a pension if they can establish proper dependency.

Any questions concerning these two types of benefits will be answered by Service Officer Melvin L. Kehe whose office is located at 210 N. Dunton street, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

Motor vehicle registrations in Illinois totaled 1,930,563 in 1946, an increase of 156,802 over the previous year, Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett reported. He said that registrations of trucks, trailers and motorcycles are at an all time high in the records of the automobile department, while passenger car registrations climbed to within 210,652 vehicles of the 1941 peak registration of 1,825,142.
Reviewing other operations of the automobile department, Secretary Barrett said that twice as many certificates of title were issued in 1946 as in 1945. Registration of chauffeurs increased 26 percent over the previous year, while registration of drivers as of December 31, 1946 exceeds the registration of the 1940-1943 series for a comparative period by 136,843 licenses.

Farmers note

Costs of production more important than ever now

The lowering of costs in both crop and livestock production four or five years from now will be uppermost in the minds of most farmers, it was asserted last week by R. H. Wilcox, agricultural economist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. He spoke before an audience at the 46th Annual Farm and Home Week held on the University campus as he reviewed trends in the cost of producing crops and livestock.

He suggested that it might be well for farmers to build up soils now in order to maintain yields and in order to lay by a reserve to improve the layout and internal arrangement of buildings and lots when building costs ease off.

Hours of labor required in the production of an acre of most crops have come down to what seems rock bottom, but hours spent per acre of hay as well as hours on some other crops will come down some more. However, labor will be increased in building soil fertility back to where it should be. So, upon the whole, Professor Wilcox expects that labor on field crops should increase during the next 5 years.

He disclosed that farmers in the cash-grain area of Illinois are today producing a bushel of corn with six minutes of man labor where 30 years ago it took 32 minutes. A bushel of soybeans is produced today with 10 minutes of labor compared with 50 minutes in the early 1920s.

It was pointed out, however, that these figures do not mean that the actual cost of producing an acre of field corn today is any lower in Illinois than it was 34 years ago. As a matter of record, it costs about $4.00 an acre more to grow and harvest an acre of corn than it did back in 1913-15; but the improvement in yield of corn per acre over that period results in a bushel of corn in the crib today costing 30 per cent less than it did 30 years ago.

Tractors, machinery, fuel, oil and the reserve for depreciation on machinery now make up 33 per cent of the cost of producing corn. During 1913-15 the machinery cost in producing an acre of corn was only 4 per cent of the total.

Today, tractor, machinery, fuel, oil and the reserve for depreciation on machinery is 29 per cent of the cost of producing soybeans.

The agricultural economist believes there is every indication that machinery costs in crop production will not come down for some years.

Unless farm machinery costs and farm wages come down, there is every indication that crop costs will continue to rise gradually until soil fertility is built back to a higher level.

Livestock costs will tend to follow prices. However, there are evidences that less man labor may be needed in livestock production. Farmers will place more emphasis on finding ways to save labor on livestock production than they have in the past.

Since feed makes up from 55 per cent of the total cost in milk production to 75 per cent of pork production, the movement of feed prices will always suggest pretty largely what the cost of livestock and livestock products will be.

Labor supervisor forseees need for more machines

In spite of the fact that American agriculture has progressed to a high state of mechanization, even further progress will become increasingly necessary. From the standpoint of available farm labor now and in the years ahead, W. D. Murphy, Illinois state farm labor supervisor, points out that machines will have to be developed to do many of the menial tasks now left to hand labor.

"Studies indicate a smaller farm population due to a declining birth rate and a shifting of farm families to urban areas," the farm labor supervisor reported.

"If sustained high production of various crops from our farms is continued, then we must look to more and better machines to take the place of hand labor now being used."

"During recent war years this hand labor has been difficult to obtain in many areas, and the seasonal demand for farm workers has created many problems for the country and state extension farm labor staffs."

Murphy presented his views at a 14-state regional farm labor conference held recently in Chicago. He said further that, under the pressure of food needs and farm labor demands, it has been necessary to supplement available domestic labor with foreign agricultural workers. But he warned that future developments may change to bring emphasis to another point of view.

Until mechanization of many "stoop labor" jobs is developed, Murphy believes that employers will find it necessary to develop a program of better housing, incentive pay and attractive employer-employee relationships to bring seasonal agriculture workers to Illinois from southern states.

At the Chicago conference preliminary plans were made by the states in the north-central and south central regions to set up an informational and liaison service to guide and instruct migratory workers who can be attracted to northern states from the south for the harvest of fruit, vegetable and canning crops. This service to migrants and growers will be under the auspices of the federal and state extension farm labor offices.

George B. Whitman, assistant supervisor, reported at the Chicago meeting on the progress of an Illinois farm labor survey will cover about 1,200 farms and will obtain information on cash wages, family labor, exchange labor, custom labor, incentive payments, prerequisites, and housing.

Murphy reported that farm labor placements in Illinois for the first 11 months in 1945 totaled 73,231 compared with 46,400 for the same period in 1946. Farm wage rates for the entire country on January 1, 1947, were 10 per cent higher than a year ago and more than three times the January 1935-39 average. For Illinois the cash wage rates on January 1, 1947, were $102 a month compared with $92.50 on the same date a year earlier.

Public Service has 98% record on farms

The farm electrification program of the Public Service Co. of Northern Illinois—launched in earnest nearly 20 years ago—is now virtually completed with 30,191, or nearly 99 per cent, of all farms in the company's 6200 square-mile service area now having electricity available.

This was disclosed today by Britton I. Budd, president of the utility company, who reported that since V-J day over 1,000 miles of rural power lines had been added to the company's rural electric network.

This accelerated rural electrification program—delayed by the war—has brought electricity to the doors of nearly 4,000 additional northern Illinois rural establishments since the war's end. Over 3,000 of the 4,000 were connected to power lines during the 12 months ended December 31.

Budd said the company now had about 7,500 miles of rural power lines in service throughout its territory and that lines were being built as fast as possible to bring electricity to the few remaining farms awaiting service. Over 600 miles of rural power lines are under construction at present, he added.

"Farmers are using more electricity than ever before," Budd also pointed out. "A generation ago, electricity on the farm generally meant a bare light bulb hanging from the kitchen ceiling, but today electricity brings the same household conveniences to the farmer as to the city dweller."

"But even more important, new and better ways constantly are being devised for speeding farm production and farm chores through use of electric power."

Farm customers of Public Service Company used an average of 2,803 kilowatt-hours last year.

Electric work-saving equipment listed by Budd as accounting for the growing use of power on northern Illinois farms includes pig and chick brooders; milking machines; milk coolers; milk stirrers; water warmers; water pumps; feed grinders and mixers; grain elevators; hay hoists; hay dryers; barn cleaners; silo unloaders; and lighting in the farm buildings, in addition to the usual household appliances such as refrigerators, ranges, water heaters, washers, freezers, irons, toasters, and radios.

Determine and correct the limiting factor in making a garden

A soil test is not a measure of productivity. It is a guide to the wise purchase and application of fertilizers.

Commercial vegetable growers and home gardeners alike are prone to attribute crop failures and unsatisfactory yields to deficiencies in plant nutrient elements in the soil or, more simply stated, to lack of fertility.

It is true, of course, that crop failures or low yields are often due to other causes. Among them are poor drainage, shading, poor till, harmful acidity, low humus content and low moisture-holding ability of the soil. When one or more of these factors limit plant growth, it will do little good to add more fertilizer to the soil.

In urban areas the grading and paving of streets, the digging of deep basements, the grading of the surface, and the laying of deep pipe lines often completely destroy the natural drainage of the soil. Also in urban areas the shade of trees, shrubs, and buildings often limits its plant growth. In some parts of Illinois the hard and impervious character of the subsoil, together with harmful acidity, is the limiting factor. Low organic content or humus, which is always followed by a low moisture-holding ability of the soil, is a problem everywhere, but especially so in areas where animal manures are not available.

First, determine what the limiting factors are. Then correct the most glaring and obvious ones. When all of these factors have been corrected, it is a simple matter to run a soil test to determine how much and what kind of fertilizer to apply.

FEED A DESIRABLE RATION!

Feed MASTER MIX EGG MASH

For efficient production and large, high quality eggs, keep a good laying mash, oyster shell, grit and water before the hens at all times. One foot of mash hopper space should be provided for every five birds. Feed scratch feed once or twice a day in a hopper or clean litter. Feed milk in some form. It is the most effective feed to maintain egg size. Feeds determine yolk color. Avoid free grass range, it causes uneven yolk color to which consumers object. Garbage or strong tainted feeds give eggs a tainted flavor.

Why Advertising Pays

IN PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS

"Advertising pays in Paddock Publications" is a known fact among dozens of businessmen in Arlington Heights, Palatine, Mt. Prospect, Bensenville and Roselle. We hear it over and over here at the office, but we'd like to tell you - our readers - about why advertising pays so well in Paddock Publications.

Circulation Is the Answer!

Circulation - number of copies reaching local homes every week - is the answer. And Paddock Publications' phenomenal growth, particularly the past five years, has made advertising a leading commodity of this area.

LOOK AT THESE FIGURES

9,795 issues of Paddock Publications go into local homes each week, with the number growing with each edition.
